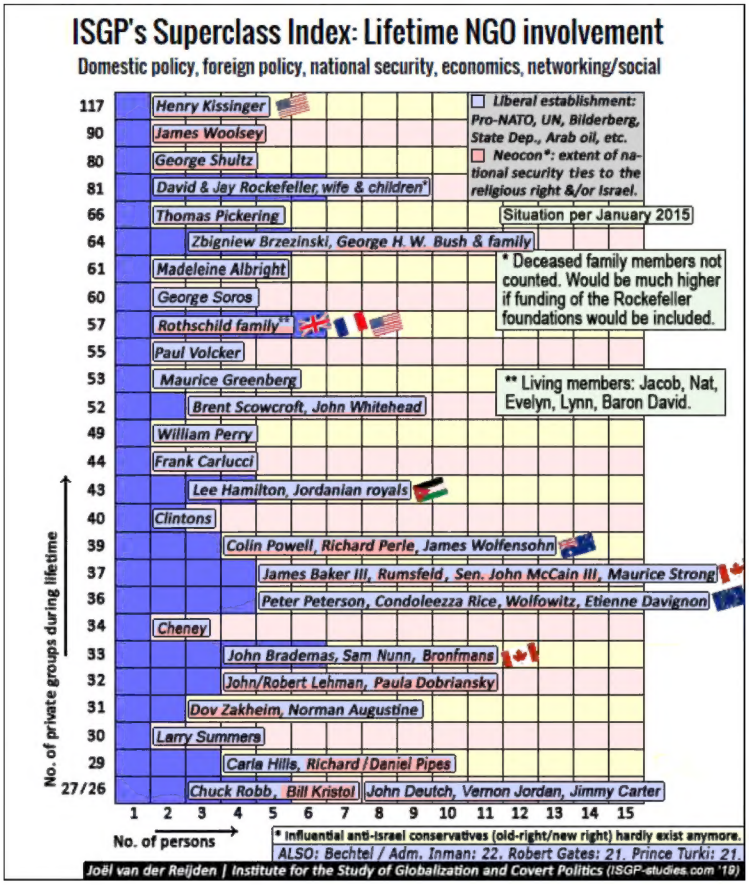
Superclass Index: permanent government: the West, Russia, Middle East



Above and below the reader can find names of prominent individuals ranked according to the number of NGOs - and a number of key corporations - they (at the very least) have historically been involved with. Overall, this appears to be a very accurate "influence index" when it comes to, once and for all, and in rather scientific manner, identifying the "powers-that-be". The focus is on the West, including Israel, but it is also possible to get a good sense of the situation in Russia.

As the reader will soon realize, most of the individuals listed in the "Superclass Index" - whether they are "liberal elite", "conservative elite", or "neocons" - know one another VERY well and all have the same opinions when it comes to Third World immigration and opposition to "conspiracy theory" in particular. Anyone with an interest in globalization or parapolitical issues would do well to become familiar with this network. After all, it is what secretly dominates our society at every level.

It's possible to check the rankings for yourself by doing searches on this page for particular (sur)names. Over 300 still-alive persons are listed at this point. Hundreds of additional "helpers" can be added if we start looking at individuals having been involved in less than 10 NGOs. The absolute top, mainly consisting of the closest friends of the late David Rockefeller, is by far the most important though. They have built and dominated this global network from at least the 1950s to the 2020s.

GREEN:	Career in banking, corporations, in economic government posts, or science.
YELLOW:	Congress, senate, judiciary, lower level government position, or (vice) president.
RED	Military career, defense secretary, CIA, national security advisor or national security scholar/scientist.
BLUE:	State Department.
PURPLE:	Soviet/nationalist Russian

The above colors have been used to give an indication of each person's professional background. The reader can count all the think tanks, foundations, and other NGOs each person in this list is involved in by going through ISGP's NGO list.

Neocon or liberal establishment, virtually everyone in the list above knows one another VERY well.

U.S.: top DOD scientists

Persons who hardly show up in think tanks, but nonetheless are allied to top Pentagon people as William Perry, Dov Zakheim and especially James Woolsey. Close to the CIA also, which is deeply involved in the high tech defense industry.

1.	Philip Odeen	23
2.	William Schneider, Jr.	19

12.	Adm. Bill Studeman	9
-	Adm. Richard Mies	9
14.	Dr. Jacquelyn Davis	8

Largely synonymous with Solntsevskaya Bratva in Russia, various Russian oligarchs, past U.S. mobsters as Meyer Lansky, neocon elements in the Pentagon and CIA, and the U.S.-based Israel lobby. It's quite worrying to see the great overlap between top U.S. officials and the Zionist list.

"The Kay [Graham] of the permanent establishment never lost sight of the fact that societies thrive not by the victories of their factions but by their ultimate reconciliations. Kay and I met in 1969 at the home of Joe Alsop, another member of Washington's permanent establishment."

July 23, 2001, Henry Kissinger, Eulogy for Katharine Graham of the Washington Post.

"[Think tanks] exert definite and even considerable influence on the process of elaborating and making political decisions. It is connected with the fact that ... leaders of such centers have as a rule personal close links with the [government]. Second, the centers are created in order to prepare and adopt the major political decisions in the shade, far from public. Third, such analytical and expert centers really accumulate the best intellectual forces of the country and fourth, not always but rather often, the centers were founded simply to provide jobs to [retired] politicians."

1999, Yuri Pivovarov, 'Power Institutions in Post-Communist Russia: Official Forms and Hidden Transcripts,' p. 18 (NATO library). The influence of Russian think tanks on the executive body seems to be many times less than is the case in the United States, but the reasons for their existence seem to be the same.

"In addition to supplying experts for incoming administrations, think tanks provide departing officials with institutional settings [where they] remain engaged in pressing foreign policy debates, and constitute an informal shadow foreign affairs establishment. This "revolving door" is unique to the United States, and a source of its strength. ...

"Think tanks provide policy-makers with venues in which to build shared understanding, if not consensus, on policy options... Among think tanks, the non-partisan Council on Foreign Relations has been most adept at this convening role, hosting hundreds of meetings annually in New York, Washington, and major cities around the country. For U.S. officials, events at major think tanks offer non-partisan settings to announce new initiatives, explain current policy, and launch trial balloons."

November 1, 2002, future CFR president Richard Haass, State Department Archive, 'Think Tanks and U.S. Foreign Policy: A Policy-Maker's Perspective'.

"Long after the Iraq War went south, when its failures could no longer be minimized, the elite newspapers and weeklies finally got around to offering sound analyses and asking the Bush Administration tough questions. ...

"My initial support for the [2003 Iraq] war was symptomatic of unfortunate tendencies within the foreign policy community, namely the disposition and incentives to support wars to retain political and professional credibility. We 'experts' have a lot to fix about ourselves."

Summer 2009, Mo. 13, Democracy Journal, 'Mission Not Accomplished', by Leslie Gelb, CFR president 1993-2003.

Sources

The names of institutes and individuals on this page have been gathered over the course of more than a thousand hours over 17 years from sources as:

- books;
- newspapers;
- official websites (don't forget Webarchive);
- unofficial websites (names were always double checked);
- a number of membership lists;
- and the Who's Who.

Many fully-written-out sources can be found in various articles and mixed membership-biography lists on this website. However, providing specific sources on the names with each institute has proven to be completely impossible due to time constraints.

All mid- to low level institutes - those without any recognizable superclass names on the various boards - have been left out of these lists. This oversight really is about the 1,500 most important NGOs, with a few dozen key corporations mixed in where elites have also gathered through various board memberships over the decades.

Importance

This page has primarily been put together to make cross-referencing - as to who is involved in what - a hundred times easier than before. And maybe even more important, also to figure out in a rather scientific way as to which players are the most influential within the globalist movement.

People studying political science should have a good idea of the non-government organizations listed on this page. They vary considerable in purpose and influence, but are an integral part of the globalization process, as well as intelligence and covert operations. For an explanation of how various establishments overlap with each other, or maybe "oppose" one another, the reader can visit the introduction page.

What keeps this entire network afloat are funds from corporations and foundations, membership fees, fund raisers and occasional government grants. Ban the foundations, curb corporate contributions, and the whole network will start to fall apart.

Let's face it, if you don't know anything about the NGOs making up the private, supranational superclass running national governments in the West, it doesn't matter how many political degrees you have: you don't know, and never will know, anything about real politics.

Interestingly, back in early 2004 this author was unable to find more than six or seven of the more important organizations below on one website or in one book, even after looking for it all over the place. Often groups like the Council on Foreign Relations and the Trilateral Commission were mixed in with the "Illuminati", the "Freemasons" and the "New World Order". Tiny bits of information on such groups as the Pilgrims, Le Cercle, the 1001 Club, the JASON Group, the Sun Valley Meetings and others were scattered all over the place and often not freely accessible. Information on mainland Europe with regard to these kind of groups was especially scarce. And in all cases no one had a clue how various groups related to each other.

As the reader can see on ISGP, this situation has changed. A lot.

On the contrary, he holds that it is a backward step and out of harmony with the growing international spirit of the time. At a reception and banquet at the Hotel Somerset tendered last month to Dr. Lewin of Russia, who was a member of the Douma, and is in this country to awaken interest in the persecuted Jews of Russia, and is also conducting a propaganda in favor of Zionism, Dr. Fleischer, taking exception to Dr. Lewin's remarks , said: "Though Zionism interests me, I do not believe in it nor accept it as a solution of the so-called 'Jewish question'..."*	1903-1940

Brookings Institution Founded in 1916 as the Institute for Government Research (IGR), only partly by the generally-credited founding vice chairman Robert Brookings. [1] Since 1910 Brookings had been a trustee of the Carnegie Inst. and a founding trustee of the Carnegie Corp. from that same year. Initially the IGR was focused on advising any government administration on domestic social and economic issues. Questions were asked in the media, because founding member (trustee 1917-) Jerome Greene [2] was a founding secretary and trustee of the Rock. Fdn., as well as general manager of the Rock. Institute (later Rock. University). The suspicion was that the Rockefellers were trying to prevent any further anti-trust legislation, such as the Supreme Court one in 1911 that broke up Standard Oil. [3] Founding trustee, Raymond Fosdick, had a brother on the board of the Rock. Fdn., and would later join the Rock. Fdn. himself, even becoming president. Reportedly Greene and Fosdick were the one who recruited Brookings into the IGR. [4] Despite all these ties, Jerome Greene of the Rock. Fdn. stated/lied point-blank to the media that there was "no connection" between the IGR and the Rockefeller interests. [5] The IGR similarly was co-founded by Morgan-allied banker Charles D. Norton. [6] In 1927 Brookings, Greene and Fosdick (all still on the board) merged the IGR, IoE and Brookings' his own graduate school into the new Brookings Institution. In 1927-1928 the IGR, on behalf of the interior secretary and with Rock. Fdn. funding, conducted a landmark study on Native Indians, concluding that their reserves were unsuitable for agriculture and that their culture was repressed by the white majority. In 1973 Nixon's dirty tricks team considered burning down the Brookings Inst. *Founding steering committee members of 1914-1916 ("Committee of Nine"): Charles D. Norton (key author statutes; Morgan-tied banker) | Jerome D. Greene (key author statutes; Rock.-tied manager) | Anson Phelps Stokes (key author statutes) | Raymond Fosdick (him and brother trustees Rock. Fdn.) | Frederick Strauss (partner in banking firm J. W. Citizens for a Free Kuwait (CFK) Set up by Hill & Knowlton of Robert Keith Gray. Conspired with Kuwaiti elites and the Bush administration to sell the 1st Gulf War by spreading the disinformation that Iraqi soldiers took babies out of their incubators and left them to die on the cold floor. "Nayirah", secretly the daughter of the Kuwaiti ambassador to the U.S., was given acting lessons and told this story to congress. President Bush himself kept repeating this story and the press refused to expose it until after the U.S. invasion. Interestingly, there was no need for this disinformation, as Iraqi soldiers pillaged, raped, tortured and murdered at will. At the same time, Kuwait had been ruled by a dictatorial emir and an elite with spoiled rich kids. The emir employed large-scale immigrant labor under virtually slave conditions.	1991

Oude Loo Conferenties / Oude Loo Conferences 17 weekly interfaith conferences organized between 1951 and 1957 at castle Oude Loo, owned by Princess Wilhelmina of Orange-owned (Dutch queen 1890-1948). The first meeting counted 130 participants, after 200 had been invited. Later meetings counted about 180 participants. Regular conference visitor Professor Gilles Quispel (author on hermeticism and Gnostic Christianity) in 'Andere Tijden': "America and Russia were never discussed. Neither the arms race. The meetings were meant to try to find a synthesis between Christianity and the world religions. [Hofmans] was an introvert, sexless woman..." The group was inspired by Queen Julia advisor Greet Hofmans and her ally, Johan Willem Kaiser. Both were heavily inspired by the teachings of Jiddu Krishnamurti, an Indian Theosophist who each summer between 1921 and 1929 came to the Netherlands as part of the Order of the Star, the Dutch branch operating from Castle Eerde from 1924 to 1929. The castle was provided to the group by Baron Philip van Pallandt, whose cousin Rudolf was a senator. During the last "star camp" in 1929 3,000 followers from 48 countries were brought together by Krishnamurti. Krishnamurti had been raised from age 11 by Charles Webster Leadbeater and Annie Besant, the leaders of the Theosophical Society, to become the new World Teacher / Maitreya, making the Oude Loo Conferences at the very least an offshoot of the Theosophical Society. Apart from Bernhard's extramarital affairs, the conferences caused a rift between Prince Bernhard and Queen Julia. When the latter eventually told Bernhard to leave the palace,	1951-1957

Bernhard leaked details of his wife's association with Greet Hofmans and the conferences to his journalist friend Sefton Delmer, which in turn resulted in an article in Der Spiegel, causing a political crisis. The so-called Greet Hofmans Affair forced Juliana to distance herself from the group. Afterwards, the group continued under the name "Oude Veld Conferences" until 1968. As part of her terms for leaving the Oude Loo Conferences, Juliana demanded that Bernhard withdrew himself from Bilderberg, but the investigative committee never made this public and the association between Bilderberg and the royal house of Orange continued unhindered. Participants: Greet Hofmans (central figure, but only behind the scenes, because she did not speak English; spiritual medium who advised Queen Juliana since 1948, when Bernhard brought her to Palace Soestdijk in relation to Princess Marijke's eye-disease; her spirit communications guided the content of the conferences) | Johan Willem Kaiser (conference organizer and close ally of Hofmans; former director Stoomvaart Maatschappij Nederland; financed by Princess Wilhelmina) | Baroness Van Heeckeren van Molecaten (member organizing committee; personal secretary of Queen Juliana; after Greet Hofmans contacted her in 1946, she provided her with a place at her domain, from which her fame grew) | Queen Julia of Orange and friends (annual conference visitor) | Queen Mother Wilhelmina (annual conference visitor) | Eleanor Roosevelt (present at the second conference, but labeled it "fanatical") | Frits Philips (of the elite Philips company) | Pierson banking family | Viruly industrial family | Fokker family (of the Dutch airplane builder) | Jiddu Krishnamurti | Martin Buber (Jewish religious philosophist) | Rabbi Jacob Soetendorp | Friedrich Würzbach (founder Nietzsche Society; half-Jew who was a complete Nazi, but still dismissed by the party) | Annemarie Schimmel (German scholar on Islam and Sufism; Harvard professor 1967-1992) | Zafrullah Khan (founding father of Pakistan).
Tie Club / Dassenclub Prince Bernhard's secret personal club, which held annual meetings and had one main rule, written down by Prince Bernhard himself: "[Members] should support each other at all times, in every aspect." The group wanted to see a coup in pre-WWII Dutch-owned Indonesia. Members (as far as is known): CIA director Gen. Walter Bedell Smith | Sefton Delmer | Frans Otten (president-director of Philips 1939-1961) | Johan Willem Beyen (director Unilever; director Philips; chair Javasche Bank; Dutch director World Bank 1946- and IMF 1948-; president BIS; co-minister of foreign affairs 1952-1956; close friend of the royal family) | Dr. J.F. Nuboer (Prince Bernhard's personal physician) | Hans Teengs Gerritsen (from a wealthy family; known as "Uncle Hans" by (future) Queen Beatrix; military intelligence officer; part of the Dutch CIA-controlled Stay Behind network with a number of close friends of Prince Bernhard; good friend of CIA agent Carl Armfelt, who founded these Stay Behind networks in Sweden, the Netherlands and Belgium; also tied to CIA drug trafficking it appears; consultant for Lockheed and Northrop in the Netherlands).	1948

Hij was nooit officieel in dienst geweest bij deze groep industriëlen, maar legde in opdracht van hen in de jaren 1956-1961 vaak contacten met Indonesische politici en ambtenaren, of werd eropuit gestuurd om poolshoogte te nemen, zoals in Indonesië in 1957. De belangrijkste figuren binnen de groep-Rijkens waren Paul Rijkens zelf, Kees Scholtens, oud-chef van de Koninklijke/Shell in Indonesië, en Emile van Konijnenburg, onderdirecteur van KLM en tevens het belangrijkste contact van Oltmans binnen de groep. Het doel van de groep was, zoals Rijkens het zelf verwoordde, om de 'zich steeds verbredende kloof tussen beide landen [Nederland en Indonesië] te helpen overbruggen, waar onze regering die overbrugging niet kon beginnen."*

Rhodes Trust trustees: Earl of Rosebery (chair 1902–1917; married to Hannah, the daughter of Mayer Amschel de Rothschild (1818-1874), from 1878 until her death in 1890; Foreign secretary 1892-1894, PM UK 1894-1895) | Lord Milner (chair 1917-1925) | Philip Kerr, 11th Marquess of Lothian (secretary 1925-1939; editor The Round Table magazine 1910-1917; close to Morgan representative Thomas Lamont since 1919) | Alfred Beit (chair 1925–1930; life-long governor De Beers, founding director BSAC, and Cecil Rhodes ally in his imperial vision) | Sir Otto Beit (Alfred's brother; director BSAC) | Leander Starr Jameson (Cape Colony PM 1904-1908; 180s conspirator of Cecil Rhodes for British control of South Africa) | Sir Edward Grey, 1st Viscount Grey of Fallodon (foreign secretary 1905-1916; UK ambassador to the US 1919-1920) | Lord Edward Grigg (politician 1920-1940s; governor of Kenya 1925-1930; privately opposed appeasement, but did not speak out) | H.A.L. Fisher (MP; governor BBC; warden of New College, Oxford 1926-1940; strongly supported a rearming of Nazi Germany to counter the communists) | Lord Leo Amery (1919-1955, chair 1933-1955; the father of Julian) | Sir Edward Robert Peacock (chair 1955-1962; director Bank of England, partner in Barclays Bank and director Hudson's Bay Company) | Baron Oliver Franks (1957-1973; director Lloyds Bank 1953–75, chair 1954–62; director Schroders 1969–1984) | 2nd Viscount Harcourt (chair 1975-; his father was part of Cecil Rhodes' inner circle; broke Cecil Rhodes' will by allowing women to the scholarship; great-grandson of Junius S. Morgan and the great-nephew of J.P. Morgan; interned at the Morgan bank; man. dir. Morgan Grenfell 1939-1968, chair 1968-1973; executive director IMF and the lending arm of the World Bank 1954-1957) | John Baring, 7th Baron Ashburton (1970-1999, chair 1982-1999; grandson of the 1st Viscount Harcourt; his grandmother was a sister of J.P. Morgan; chair Barings Bank 1974-1989, director Bank of England 1983-1991, chair BP 1992-1995 and a BB visitor; his mother was a granddaughter of J.P. Morgan's father) / John Kerr, Lord Kerr of Kinlochard (1997-2010; chair Shell T&T; director Rio Tinto 2003-2015 and BB steering committee) / Lord Robert Fellowes (2000-; chair Barclays Private Bank 2000-) / Nicholas Oppenheimer (2015-) / Dominic Barton (2010-; McKinsey & Co.) / Bob Sternfels (McKinsey & Co.) / Chris Oechsli (president and CEO Atlantic Philanthropies) / Dr. Andrew Graham (also warden of Rhodes House 2012–2013; consultant BBC; director Channel 4; director Scott Trust, which owns The Guardian and The Observer).

1910-1912: local Round Table groups were set up in Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. Improved co-operation among nations/region soon became more popular than the idea of the more centralized imperial federation concept. Free market economics also eventually won over Imperial Preference (British goods first, second from the colonies, and lastly from outsiders). In the late 1930s a split occurred between supporters and opponents of appeasement. Publication since 1910: The Round Table Journal: A Quarterly Review of the Politics of the British Empire. January 2006, The Round Table Journal, 'World War I and Anglo-American' has an interesting history on the movement."

Big business in Weimar and Nazi Germany

Club von Berlin Origins: 179 founding members. 673 member by 1925. Expelled all Jews in 1933-1934, leading to a crisis in the club. In the late 1930s and early 1940s the club grew close to a thousand members, countless from big business. Members/visitors: - Hjalmar Schacht (membership committee 1920s-1940s): Major globalist-oriented banker, so close to 1920-1944 Bank of England governor Montagu Norman that Norman was godfather to one of his children. President Reichsbank 1923-1930, 1933-1939. Helped create IG Farben in 1925. Reichsminister of Economics 1934-1937. Reichsminister without portfolio 1937-1943. - Fritz Thyssen: Steel baron. Founding chair Vereinigte Stahlwerke 1926-1939. Top Hitler financier, counsel and cheerleader all the way since 1923. Persuaded Hitler to suppress the SA in 1934, leading to the Night of the Long Knives. Rifts developed in 1936, because Fritz did not support Hitler's suppression of the Catholic church and app[arently not the wholesale extermination of the Jews. However, it did not go unnoticed that Thyssen left Germany in September 1939, weeks after the August 23, 1939 Nazi-Soviet Non-Aggression Pact he greatly opposed. "I personally believe the German people are not ready for democracy." - Carl Duisberg: CEO of Bayer 1900-1914, chair and CEO 1914-1925, until the merger with IG Farben; negotiated the "dreibund" or "little IG" of 1904 with BASF and Afga, after monopolistic trust inspiration from Standard Oil; chair advisory board IG Farben 1926; Duisberg: "[These trusts are established for the] elimination of ruinous competition, with the aim of achieving the highest possible profits." d. 1935). - Carl Bosch: Chair BASF until its merger with IG Farben in 1925. Exec. chair IG Farben 1925-1935. - Fritz Haber (certainly a Feb. 17, 1926 discussion): Nobel Prize laureate for work done with Carl Bosch in developing chemical fertilizer. Soon after the "father of German chemical warfare" who oversaw Germany's first release of chlorine gas during the April 1915 Battle of Ypres and days later at the Eastern front. His wife killed herself at this point. Member advisory board IG Farben 1926-1933. Always defended the use of poison gas as "not at all more cruel". Eyewitness account of his initial chlorine gas attack: "My lungs felt as they were being burned out [and] burst. Red hot needles were being trust into my eyes. [The dead turn] black in the face. ... The most awful death I have ever seen."	1864

Reichsverband der Deutschen Industrie (RDI) / Reich Association of German Industry Board / presidium: Kurt Sorge (chair 1919–1925) / Carl Duisberg (presidium chair 1925–1931) / Gustav Krupp (presidium chair 1931–1933) / Robert Bosch / Alfred Hugenberg / Paul Reusch / Paul Silverberg / Carl Friedrich von Siemens / Ernst von Borsig / Hugo Stinnes / Felix Deutsch / Julius Deutsch (AEG) / Max Fischer (Carl Zeiss Jena).	1919-1933
Nationale Vereinigung / Nationaler Club / Nationalklub Ultraright anti-Bolshevik group that set up branches in Berlin, Magdeburg, Mainz, Leipzig and Dresden. The group would become deeply tied to the Kapp Putsch. Members: Alfred Hugenberg (key organizer) / Waldemar Pabst (founding CEO) / Gen. Erich Ludendorff (actively supported the group's founding) / Col. Max Bauer (co-founder; Ludendorff's WWI political advisor) / Wolfgang Kapp (co-founder) / Ernst von Borsig (inspired by a Hitler speech here on June 5, 1922) / Heinrich Class (invited Hitler to speak here in 1922; president Pan-German League 1908-1939) / Fritz Geisler (met Hitler here with Class, soon leading to an invitation to speak; apparently transferred 150,000 RM to the NSDAP in the summer of 1922, which may have been due to a successful fundraiser of Borsig and Karl Burhenne of Siemens; executive chair ultraright Vereinigte Vaterlandische Verbande). Financiers: Hugo Stinnes / Carl Duisberg (financed and a WWI friend of Col. Bauer, but then spoke out against the Kapp Putsch (after it failed), because it led to striker workers and a bad image overseas). Speakers: Adolf Hitler (May 29, 1922 and June 5, 1922). *Source(s): p. 101 (Duisberg). Kapp Putsch Ultraright coup attempt to undo the 1919-established social democrat Weimar Republic, which actually had allowed the Reichswehr / army to suppress the (overly militant) Bolsheviks. The Reichswer supported the coup in many places, but a massive uprising of 12 million workers prevented the coup from succeeding. Organizers / participants: Wolfgang Kapp (co-founder in 1917 and chair Fatherland Party; member DNVP by 1919) / Hermann Ehrhardt (his Freikorps brigade that marched into the center of Berlin sported swastikas on their helmets and vehicles) / Gen. Walther von Luttwitz / Gen. Erich Ludendorff / Waldemar Pabst / Ernst von Borsig (negotiated between Kapp and the legitimate government in Berlin, but was on the side of the putschists) / Adolf Hitler and Dietrich Eckart (flown into Berlin by the army to meet up with Kapp and aid the coup; however, they arrived too late).	1920
Deutscher Kampfbund / German Combat League Ultraright paramilitary organization. Members: Gen. Erich Ludendorf (key founder) / Ernst Rohm (involved) / Adolf Hitler (appointed political leader in Sep. after the new government under Gustav Stresemann sought to end passive resistance to allied occupation of the Ruhr due to it causing hyperinflation). Dissolved after the Beer Hall Putsch.	Sep.-Nov. 1923
Beer Hall Putsch Failed coup attempt involving about 2,000 SA Nazi stormtroopers against what Hitler termed "the Berlin Jew government and the November criminals of 1918." Coup opponent and eye witness Dr. Karl Alexander von Mueller: "I cannot remember in my entire life such a change in the attitude of a crowd in a few minutes, almost a few	Nov. 8, 1923 seconds [through a little speech by] Hitler... It had almost something of hocus-pocus, or magic about it." Government soldiers and police officers were able to stop the coup after a shootout that killed 16 Nazis and 4 police officers. Organizers / participants: Gen. Erich Ludendorff (together with Hindenburg, de facto dictator of Germany during WWI 1916-1918; visited Hitler several times in jail after the coup) / Adolf Hitler / Dietrich Eckart / Heinrich Himmler / Rudolf Hess / Hermann Goring / Ernst Rohm / Alfred Rosenberg / Julius Streicher / Ernst Hanfstaengl. Financiers: Fritz Thyssen (provided 100,000 Reichsmark to Ludendorff in Oct. 1923 after being sent to Hitler by Ludendorff, being similarly impressed with Hitler, and being explained their putsch plans) / Hugo Stinnes (another supporter of Ludendorff's agenda; funds provided through industrialist Friedrich Minoux, a Stinnes representative until 1923).

Union Banking Corporation Set up after Fritz Thyssen told Averell Harriman he wanted a bank in the United States. Owned by the Rotterdam-based Bank voor Handel and Scheepvaart (BHS; paid for Hitler's Brown House in 1928), a front for the Thyssen brothers. UBC directors lied about not being aware of this, with even Treasury researcher Erwin May, bizarrely, concluding in his August 16 1941 report: "Lievense, president of UBC, claims no knowledge as to the ownership of the Bank voor Handel but believes it possible that Baron Heinrich Thyssen, brother of Fritz Thyssen, may own a substantial interest." Already in 1920 Harriman bought the Hamburg-Amerika Line. George Herbert Walker and Harriman started visiting Germany for investments no later than 1922, mainly in relation to coal and steel. In that capacity they got to know Fritz Thyssen. Partnerships they set up also included Friedrich Flick, also of Vereinigte Stahlwerke. On July 30 1942 the New York Herald-Tribune caused trouble with its article, 'Hitler's Angel Has $3m in US Bank'. In October 1942 UBC's shares were sieged under the Trading With the Enemy act, followed by a number of interlocked companies. Recommendations to liquidate the bank and confiscate its assets were ignored. Instead, the bank was given back to its shareholders after the war, with no one being prosecuted. American board members: Roland Harriman (chair and owned almost all shares; partner BBH; brother of founder Averell) / Samuel Pryor (anno 1928; director under president Averell Harriman of the American Ship and Commerce Co. 1920- (June 6, 1920, WaPo), which controlled the reopened Hamburg-America Line; steel industrialist until 1941, when he became exec. vice president of Pan Am, founded by his Yale classmate Juan Trippe; built some 50 U.S. airbases in Africa during WWII) / Prescott Bush (later managing director, not yet on the board in 1928; partner BBH) / Harold Pennington (director anno 1942; also at BBH) / Ray Morris (not yet in 1928; partner BBH). Dutch-German board members: Cornelis Lievense (president and director anno 1928, 1942) / Johann Groninger / Johann Groeninger (anno 1928, 1942; director BHS; director August Thyssen-Hutte AG; founding advisory board member Vereinigte Stahlwerke) / Hendrick Kouwenhoven (anno 1928, 1948; director BHS; member advisory board Vereinigte Stahlwerke anno 1939; d. 1947, two weeks after informing Prescott of a Dutch investigation into the bank) / Source(s): June-July 1945, Congressional report, 'Elimination of German Resources for War: Hearings', pp. 727-730 (U.S. names not mentioned); 1942 Office of Alien Property Custodian report: "Since 1939, these (steel and mining) properties [tied to UBC] have been in possession of and have been operated by the German government and have undoubtedly been of considerable assistance to that country's war effort."	1924
Deutsch-Atlantische Telegraphengesellschaft / German Atlantic Cable Company Founded in 1899, but it wasn't until 1925 that W. A. Harriman & Co. bought a stake in it. *Directors anno 1932: Georg Solmssen (chair anno 1932) / Max Moritz Warburg (vice chair) / W. Frisch (vice chair) / Averell Harriman (anno 1932) / Wilhelm Cuno (German chancellor 1922-1923 during the peak of hyperinflation) / H. F. 1927, Vereinigte Stahlwerke company newspaper 'Das Werk': "The history of almost all peoples is an eternal urge to expand, a never-dormant need for expansion. [Germany has] too little, far too little land..."
The International Steel Cartel Founded soon after Vereinigte Stahlwerke was set up, involving German, French, Belgian and Luxembourg steel producers. Austria , Hungary and Czechoslovakia joined in 1927. The union started collapsing in 1929 due to the Great Depression, but was revived in 1933. The British joined in 1935. United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Republic Steel joined in an informal capacity in 1938. Anno 2021 there still doesn't exist an English-language Wikipedia page on this cartel, with information on meetings and board members being virtually non-existent. Represented: Ernst Poensgen | Fritz Thyssen | Albert Vogler | Gustav Krupp. Feb. 12, 1948, U.S. Congressional report, pp. 1252-1253: "Dr. Ernst Poensgen: The spokesperson for German heavy industry, Vereinigte Stahlwerke and the coal industry ... for more than 30 years... He was retired in 1943 under the express orders of Hitler in order to use his services in case of the defeat of Nazi Germany. ... Decorated by Hitler personally... Ernst Poensgen founded the International Steel Cartel in 1926. In 1939 [he] negotiated the famous Dusseldorf agreement with the representatives of the British heavy industries, Sir Percy Mills and [Pilgrim] Sir Andrew Duncan, dividing the world into two spheres for German-British economic exploitation. Sir Percy Mills was, until recently, the head of the economic division in the British zone. Because of Poensgen's intimate tie-ups with the British heavy industry, he was reappointed head of the Vereinigte Stahlwerke 5 months ago. Thus, today he is in a position to continue his nefarious work ... He was never denazified, and now heads the reconstruction of Germany's war potential."	1926-1931, 1933-1939
Mussolini trip Visited Italy at the invitation of fascist dictator Mussolini: Fritz Thyssen | Heinrich Thyssen (Fritz's brother) | Albert Vogler (reportedly). This was while Hitler's NSDAP they were backing was still very obscure. Source(s): Not mentioned on any English or German Wikipedia anno 2021. 1942, economist Henry Junior Taylor (who interacted a lot with Fritz), 'Time Runs Out' (only mentions Fritz and hints that he and other Germans greatly influenced Mussolini's speeches and behavior); 2006, David Litchfield, 'The Thyssen Art Macabre', p. 84 (includes Frankfurter Zeitung citation mentioning Fritz and his brother); 1934, Ernest Henri, 'Hitler over Europe', p. 11 (mentions Vogler instead of Fritz's brother); 1940, George Seldes for his 'In Fact: For the Millions who Want a Free Press', Vol. 1, p. 3 (could be copied from May, whom Seldes has used as a source elsewhere).	Feb. 1927
Ruhrlade Revival and purposely smaller group (from 45 to 12 members) than the Essener Montagsgesellschaft. Based on the secretive Lade group of Industrialists in Magdeburg. First meeting took place in Jan. 1928. The group met once a month, on the first monday of each month; organizing meetings at the castles and estates of its members. Apart from managing the industry, the group made donations to right wing political parties as the DNV and DNVP and essentially tried to bribe political parties into doing their bidding. Supposedly a schism developed in June 1932 when it came out that Thyssen, Vogler and Poensgen had quietly allowed the government to buy itself into their Gelsenkirchener Bergwerks AG, the holding company of Vereinigte Stahlwerke. The remaining members, including Reusch, bitterly complained about allowing this "state interference" and wanted it reversed. The thing is, the government paid FAR too much for the shares, with it being quite clear it would sell the shares back very cheaply, giving the Ruhrbarons in questions the massive subsidy they needed in order for Vereinigte Stahlwerke (and the economy as a whole) to survive. Subsequently all members did rally around chancellor Franz von Papen, while being very wary about chancellor Kurt von Schleicher's economic policies while cultivating ties with labor union leaders.	1927-1939

Members:

- Paul Reusch: Official, main organizer and secretary 1927-. Didn't want to finance the Nazis and thought the Bavarian People's Party (BVP) he was allied with could "moderate" the Nazis by bringing them into an alliance. Still signed a petition in 1932 to bring Hitler to power.
- Fritz Thyssen: Co-organizer. Unabashed Hitler supporter since 1923.
- Gustav Krupp: Co-organizer. Not much of a Nazi supporter before 1933 (if only because it had a "socialist wing"), but ended up becoming a "super-Nazi" at that point, in the words of Hjalmar Schacht. Even demanded his employees gave him the Nazi salute whenever he visited one of his steel factories.
- Carl Bosch: Member since 1932, replacing the deceased Winkhaus.
- Carl Friedrich von Siemens: Guest on May 11, 1929, but officially a member since 1935, replacing the deceased Fickler.
- Herman Bucher: Member since 1935, replacing the exiled Silverberg. Managing director AEG.
- Ernst Poensgen: Founding member.
- Frederick Springorum: Founding member, deputy secretary and treasurer; thought it wise to "moderate" the "radical" aspects of the Nazis by making them dependent on big business funding while including them in the government.
- Paul Silverberg: Founding member. Jewish. Chair Rheinische AG, Germany's largest brown coal mining firm. Turned on by the others after the Nazis wanted to get rid of him over his Jewish roots.
- Fritz Winkhaus: Founding member. Manager director of Hoescht-owned Koln-Neuessener Bergwerksverein.
- Peter Klockner: Founding member. Founder and head of Klockner Werke AG.
- Arthur Klotzbach: Founding member. Director Freidrich Krupp AG.
- Karl Haniel: Founding member. Chair Gutehoffnungshutte and member of the family that owned a controlling interest in the firm.
- Erich Fickler: Founding member. Managing director Harpener Bergbau AG and advisory chair bituminous coal cartel.
- Martin Blank: Berlin representative of the group.

More:

- Friedrich Flick: Guest on May 11, 1929.
- Franz von Papen: Favorite politician of the Ruhrlade who met with members on occasion and may have been present as a guest.
- Walther Funk: Received funding from the summer of 1931, right when this centre-right journalist joined the Nazi party as an economic advisor, this to influence Hitler's economic policies in favor of big business. Reich minister for economic affairs from 1938-1945. - Alfred Hugenberg: Media baron who received Ruhrlade funding for the German National People's Party (DNVP) he chaired from 1928, a pro-big business imperial party which dissolved in June 1933 with members moving over to Hitler's NSDAP. Co-founder of the imperialist Pan-German Association in 1891. Chair finance department of Krupp AG 1909-1918. During WWI he opposed calls for peace and was a major pusher for colonial annexation and exploitation of (potentially) conquered areas, this alongside Hugo Stinnes and Emil Kirdorf. Co-founder of the pro-big business imperialist German Fatherland Party in 1917. Received funds from the Ruhrlade in the early 1930s not only to aid his DNVP party in the polls, but also to keep him from being sidelined by less reactionary elements within the DNVP. Started buying up media in 1916 and "owned half of the German press" in the late 1920s and early 1930s. His newspapers gave very favorable attention to Hitler's 1923 Beer Hall Putsch, only disagreeing with the method. Urged President Hindenburg in a letter written alongside Von Papen to install Hitler as chancellor in January 1933. After this succeeded, Hitler would soon appropiate Hugenberg's media empire. Reich minister of economics under Hitler Jan.-Jun. 1933. Completely overlooked anno 2021 in his otherwise super-detailed German and English Wikipedia bios (only his old Krupp affiliation is mentioned): Reported director Vereinigte Stahlwerke (VS) by 1934 and certainly a supervisory board member anno 1939. Acquired (additional) VS stock in 1944 from the soon-to-be destroyed Prussian state and came to serve as chair around this point. On Dec. 4, 1946, the British authorities in Germany were asked why they never removed him as VS chair, the answer being: "It takes a vote of the shareholders of the company to remove him as board chairman." Source(s): Sep. 1970, Henry A. Turner Jr. for the Cambridge University Press-published Central European History journal, 'The Ruhrlade, Secret Cabinet of Heavy Industry in the Weimar Republic', pp. 195-196, 227. Extra, p. 199: "The Ruhrlade also functioned as a behind-the-scenes pressure group... Occasionally, the members, after consulting with each other, addressed themselves directly to the authorities, but they did so as individuals, preferring to keep the Ruhrlade as such out of public, or even official, view, although its existence unavoidably became known in the inner circles of the government.[14] More commonly, they worked through other, less secretive, industrial organizations." P. 216 mentions Funk financing. 2007, C. Edmund Clingan review at Humanities and Social Sciences Online, 'Clingan on Gehlen, 'Paul Silverberg (1876-1959): Ein Unternehmer'': "French ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet [charged] that [Paul] Silverberg, Hjalmar Schacht, Thyssen, Albert Vogler, and Franz von Papen formed a cabal to forge a Nazi-Catholic Center government. Silverberg actually feared that the left wings of both parties could unite and strike against business [so supported] the right-of-center German People's Party (DVP)... Flick conspired with Thyssen to take control of Silverberg's core businesses... Vogler ... had promised not to work against Silverberg, but at some point he broke that promise. ... When the Nazis ousted his friend [Cologne mayor] Konrad Adenauer, Silverberg was doomed. He lost his sixty-plus board positions in a matter of months. ... Nazi Kurt von Schroder offered him honorary Aryan status if he would support the Nazis, but Silverberg refused [and left the country in 1933]."

Bund zur Erneuerung des Reiches (BER) / Federation for the Renewal of the Reich Purpose: Big business group set up at the end of the Weimar Republic that, among other things, called for more power for the Reich President at the expense of Parliament and lower corporate taxes by cutting public spending. 1927 initial meeting: Paul Reusch | Max Warburg (leadership). 1928 founding call signers: Fritz Thyssen | Gustav Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach | Albert Vogler | Carl Friedrich von Siemens | Robert Bosch | Jakob Goldschmidt | Franz von Mendelssohn | Fritz Springorum | Wilhelm Cuno | Hermann Rochling | Paul Reusch | Carl Bergmann (advisory board Deutsche Bank) | Louis Hagen | Abraham Frowein. 'Industry and banks' workgroup: Ernst von Borsig | Julius Flechtheim | Wolfgang Reuter (general director Demag) | Kurt Schmitt. One problem is that the article cannot be found in the New York Times archive anno 2021, with no (extensive) quotes being available anywhere. The boards of directors has been confirmed, however.
Economic pressure on the NSDAP *In 1931 bankers and industralists applied pressure on Hitler to remove the anti-capitalist Gottfried Feder - a Thulist and economic mentor of Hitler - as newly instated chairman of the NSDAP's economic council. Harzburg Front gathering A meeting that brought all of Germany's antisemitic, imperialist forces together in an attempt to persuade President Paul von Hindenburg to remove Chancellor Heinrich Bruning from office, this because these elements considered him too socialist - a "Bolshevik" even. The attempt failed however, as Hitler refused to cooperate with Hugenberg (as Hugenberg's DNVP was weak in the polls and likely only wanted to "control" Hitler on behalf of big business) and because Gustav von Krupp was still advising Hindenberg to NOT remove Bruning from office. Involved: Hjalmar Schacht (denounced the Young Plan and Bruning's economic policies in his speech) | Fritz Thyssen | Ernst Brandi (Ruhr industrialist and great Hitler supporter) | Alfred Hugenberg | Adolf Hitler | Heinrich Himmler | Hermann Goring | Ernst Rohm.	Oct. 1931
Freundeskreis der Wirtschaft / Freundeskreis Reichsführer SS / Freundeskreis Himmler / Himmler Circle / Keppler Circle Most recognizable members: - Wilhelm Keppler: Chair IG Farben subsidiary Braunkohle-Benzin AG; joined the NSDAP in 1927, which he financed and served as an economic advisor of; part of the Jan. 4, 1933 meeting between Von Papen and Hitler. - Heinrich Himmler: Involved 1935-. - Baron Kurt von Schroder: Key Nazi banker. See above. - Hjalmar Schacht: President Reichsbank. See above. - Otto Steinbrinck: Vice-president Vereinigte Stahlwerke AG. - Albert Vogler: Representative of the Ruhrlade, but not a regular participant. Vereinigte Stahlwerke. See above. - Friedrich Reinhardt: Among the first 9 members of the Keppler Circle. Director of the Commerz- und Privatbak. Chief Nazi economic advisor. His 1932 economic campaign calling for rearmament and imperialism as a way towards economic recovery was terrible for consumers, merchants and exporters, but great the Ruhr producers of steel and coal. - Wilhelm Voss: SS-Standartenfuhrer. Co-founder Reichswerke Hermann Goring in 1937. See above. - Heinrich Butefisch: IG-Farben. - Emil Helfferich: Chair of the German-American Petroleum Company / Esso, owned for 94% by the Rockefeller's Standard Oil of New Jersey. - Friedrich Flick: Chair of Flick KG. See above. - Emil Heinrich Meyer: ITT. - Hans Walz: Robert Bosch GmbH; credited with saving Jews. - Kurt Schmitt: Part of a 1933 meeting; chair Allianz AG 1921-1933, supervisory board until 1945; Reich economics minister 1933-1934; afterwards chair AEG AG and the Deutsche Continental Gasgesellschaft.	1932-1945

- Count Gottfried von Bismarck-Schonhausen: Grandson of the 19th century German chancellor Otto von Bismarck. Member Reichstag for the Nazi party in the 1930s. SS brigadefuhrer by 1944, when it was discovered he was affiliated with the resistance (since 1942, mainly because Germany was beginning to lose the war) after the purges in the wake of the assassination attempt on Hitler by Col. Claus von Stauffenberg. Would have been tortured and executed like thousands of others, but was set free by the notorious People's Court of Roland Freisler due to his name and connections. Other interests represented: Dresdner Bank / Commerzbank / Wintershall / Brabag / Norddeutsche Lloyd / Ilseder Hutte.

Arbeidsstelle Dr. Schacht Hjalmar Schacht-pitched idea to members of the Ruhrlade as an office to establish contacts between the Nazi Party and big business. The Ruhrlade voted on the issue in June 1932. Not all supported the idea, or for the same reasons, but the most influential members did. The office was never (fully) established, because it was canceled after Schacht learned about Hitler's support for the creation of the Keppler Circle. Agreed to finance: August Thyssen / Gustav Krupp / Albert Vogler / Frederick Springorum / Paul Reusch. Source(s): Sep. 1970, Henry A. At the same time, a large group of capital owners had campaigned for von Papen and the German National People's Party that supported him. Their appeal "With Hindenburg for the people and the Reich" is intended as proof of the anti-Nazism or anti-Hitlerism of the majority of the big bourgeoisie. Above all, however, it proves that this numerically stronger action also sided with the constitution-breaking head of state and thus rejected parliamentary democracy."	Nov. 6, 1932
The Industrielleneingabe Letter / The Industrial Input Letter November 19, 1932 letter to Reich president Paul von Hindenburg asking Hitler to be appointed chancellor after Franz von Papen lost this position. Literally, the signers ask Hindenburg to transfer "responsible leadership" of the government to the NSDAP of Hitler (who fits the description of "the leader of the largest national [political] group") and the smaller, pro-big business, imperialist DNVP of Alfred Hugenberg. Dr. Stein [not mentioned in other accounts; possibly JH Stein banking house and a George/Baron Kurt inlaw], head of the Geworkschaft Auguste Victoida, a mine which belongs to the I. G. Dr. Stein was an active member of the Deutsche Volkspartei. ... I had expected the appearance of Goering [but] Hitler entered the room, shook hands with everybody and took a seat at the top of the table. In a long speech he talked mainly about the danger of communism over which he pretended that he just had won a decisive victory. *He then talked about the Bundnis — alliance — into which his party and the Deutsch Nationale Volkspartei had entered. This latter party, in the meantime, had been reorganized by Herr von Papen. At the end he came to the point which seemed to me the purpose of the meeting. Hitler stressed the importance that the two aforementioned parties should gain the majority in the coming Reichstag election. ... After Hitler had left the room, Dr. Schacht proposed to the meeting the raising of an election fund of, as far as I remember, RM 3,000,000. Mainland Europe: communist and anti-Nazi activism

League of Outlaws Communist precursor organization.	1834-1836
League of the Just / League of Just Men / Communist League Artisan-dominated secret society that spun off from the League of Outlaws (which quickly ceased to exist). Partnered with Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels in 1847 (publishing Marx's Communist Manifesto in the process), in which they agreed to become a public political movement known as the Communist League. Demands of the Communist Manifesto: - a progressive income tax; - abolition of inheritances and private property; - abolition of child labour; - free public education; - nationalisation of the means of transport and communication; - centralisation of credit via a national bank; - expansion of publicly owned land. Marx's Communist Manifesto on the abolition of the family (vague): "Abolition of the family! Even the most radical [individuals] flare up at this infamous proposal of the Communists. ... On what foundation is the present family, the bourgeois family, based? On capital, on private gain. In its completely developed form this family exists only among the bourgeoisie. But this state of things finds its complement in the practical absence of the family among the proletarians, and in public prostitution. ... The proletarian is without property; his relation to his wife and children has no longer anything in common with the bourgeois family-relations. ... By the action of Modern Industry, all family ties among the proletarians are torn asunder, and their children transformed into simple articles of commerce and instruments of labour. ... The bourgeois family will vanish as a matter of course when its complement vanishes, and both will vanish with the vanishing of capital." Marx's Communist Manifesto on women: "But you Communists would introduce "community of women"", screams the whole bourgeoisie in chorus. [The fact is:] the bourgeois sees in his wife a mere instrument of production [with women] to be exploited in common... Our bourgeois, not content with having the wives and daughters of their proletarians at their disposal [for workplace exploitation], not to speak of	1836

[shared] prostitutes, take the greatest pleasure in seducing each other's wives. Bourgeois marriage is in reality a system of wives in common. ... [Hence the Bourgeouis] has not even a suspicion that the real point [of us communists] is to do away with the status of women as mere instruments of production. ... The Communists have no need to introduce [an activist] community of women; it has existed almost from time immemorial. ... [We are for] the abolition of ... prostitution, both public and private." July 1926, The Atlantic, 'The Russian Effort to Abolish Marriage': "When the Bolsheviki came into power in 1917 they regarded the family, like every other 'bourgeois' institution, with fierce hatred, and set out with a will to destroy it. ... A law was passed which made divorce a matter of a few minutes... Chaos was the result. Men took to changing wives with the same zest... 'Some men have twenty wives, living a week with one, a month with another,' asserted an indignant woman delegate during the sessions of the Tzik. 'They have children with all of them, and these children are thrown on the street for lack of support! (There are three hundred thousand bezprizorni or shelterless children in Russia to-day... More than half of them are drug addicts and sex perverts. ... An epidemic of marriages and divorces broke out in the country districts. ... It was not an unusual occurrence for a boy of twenty to have had three or four wives, or for a girl of the same age to have had three or four abortions. ... Many women of light behavior ... formed connections with the sons of well-to-do peasants and then blackmailed the father for the support of the children."
World Committee for the Relief of the Victims of German Fascism Willi Munzenberg (founder? A top communist close to Trotsky and Lenin). *On August 1, 1933 it published in 17 languages 'Brown Book of the Hitler Terror and the Burning of the Reichstag', which contained, according to Arthur Koestler, "the first comprehensive report on the concentration camps... the persecution of Jews [and others], the repression of literature, and other aspects of the terror." It became "the bible of the anti-fascist crusade", but Comintern Intelligence played a major role in its creation and distribution. Comite Mondiale Contre la Guerre et le Fascisme / World Committee Against War and Fascism This anarchist committee defended Marinus van der Lubbe from charges in the Brown Book that he was a pwawn of the Nazi, instead claiming that he was devout defender of the working classes.	1933-1934
Legal Commission of Inquiry into the Burning of the Reichstag D. N. Pritt (chair; member Labour Party) | Arthur Garfield Hays (founder ACLU; attended the Van der Lubbe trial) | Vincent de Moro-Giaferi (French lawyer) | Francesco Nitti (PM Italy) | Sen. Georg Branting (Sweden). Evidence discussed by the commission (and above committees): 1. 23 separate sources for the fire were identified, on different floors, all throughout the building. 2. On the evening of the fire, police reported that about fifty kilograms of firelighters had been collected, with conclusions being drawn, also in Goering's memo, that at least 7 people with knowledge of the building must have set the fires. 3. It was concluded that these fires must have been set in a timespan of 11 to 14 minutes, all too much work for lone communist Marinus Van der Lubbe. 4. The exterior doors of the Reichstag were all found locked when people arrived on the scene. 5. Witness "Mr. Adermann" heard noises come from the private underground passageway in the nights before the fire. 6. The underground passageway had three internal doorways: the Reichstag, the Reichtag's president's room (Herman Goering's), and the machine room. 7. Marinus van der Lubbe seemed broken, to the point his lawyer had to wipe drool from his face. Counter-evidence ignored by the commission (and above committees):	Sep. 1933

1. In contrast to what is claimed, there is plenty of evidence that Marinus van der Lubbe was a devout communist in the Netherlands. 2. He had committed arson in public buildings on a number of occasions. 3. He was observed breaking a window and entering the Reichstag, upon which police officers were notified. 4. He took firelighters with him inside the Reichstag, then set his shirt on fire and ran through the entire building, using his shirt to start fires everywhere. 5. He was arrested inside the Reichstag while it was burning. 6. He wasn't wearing a shirt at the time of his arrest and was completely out of breath due to all the running he'd done. 7. He confessed to setting the fire after a number of days, and also gave his motive: "Perhaps once the intimidated masses saw these strongholds of capitalism going up in flames, they might shake off their lethargy even at this late hour." 8. Reportedly he took the police officers through the scene with a sense of pride of his deed. 9. On December 6, 1934, two months into his trial, he finally shot up and yelled to the judge: "I burned down the Reichstag and I want to have my sentence - twenty years in prison or Death! I have been questioned for over eight months. I want something to happen! This trial has now been going on for two months. How long is it going to take to get a verdict? ... I set the fire [there was no communist conspiracy]. None of these other defendants had anything to do with it." 10. With that it appears Van der Lubbe was trying to come across as mentally retarded to avoid the death sentence. Reasons behind the confusion: 1. The Nazis wanted it to be a communist conspiracy, greater than just Van der Lubbe. After all, with the "communist conspiracy" excuse, they were able to seige power and get rid of all the communist members of parliament. 2. The Communist International wanted it to be a Nazi plot. 3. Many sources in democratic countries both wanted and assumed the Nazis had something to do with the fire, due to its convenience. 4. Van der Lubbe was behaving life a deaf-mute during the trial, with co-defendant Georgi Dimitrov (a top-communist) also claiming that with his silence Van der Lubbe was a tool of the Nazis. 5. In the modern era pushing the conspiracy-point-of-view helps muddy the waters on conspiracy in general. ▸ This includes Gen. Franz Halder's Nuremberg testimony: "At a luncheon on the birthday of the Fuehrer in 1942 the conversation turned to the topic of the Reichstag... I heard with my own ears when Goering... shouted: "The only one who really knows about the Reichstag is I, because I set it on fire!" With that he slapped his thigh with the flat of his hand." Clearly Goering was making fun of all the rumors about him surrounding the fire. And how fascinating is it that Goering's Wikipedia page anno 2021 only includes the quote - without context... ▸ Hans Bernd Gisevius (later claimed Van der Lubbe was a "patsy"; that the SA had burned the Reichstag entering via the underground tunnel).

Cooper, President, American-Russian Chamber of Commerce: "Mr. Josef Stalin, a man whose name will go down in history as one of the foremost leaders of all times. While I may honestly disagree in some respects with political and social philosophy ... I wholeheartedly admire his unselfish, untiring efforts to raise the standards of living of the 160,000,000 people within the confines of the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union [where] there exists natural resources far greater in value than the known natural resources of the balance of Europe. ...* President Roosevelt and Commissar Litvinoff have just laid an American-Soviet foundation stone of friendship [and] have finally healed the sixteen years' breach in American-Russian relations. [This is] a vital aid in the establishment of world peace. World Peace!" ... Address by Colonel Raymond Robins: "For sixteen long years we have waited for this hour. All the peoples of the world share in the gains for international peace... I revisited Russia of the Soviets in the spring and summer of this years [and was] on the Red Square of Moscow ... in 1918... I could find nowhere anyone who knew of or said he believed in any organized resistance against the Soviet Government throughout the Russian land. ... The penal system of the Soviets has abolished all punitive elements. The whole method of detention is educational and correctional. They deal with social criminals as comrades who have been ill or unfortunate.""

Burisma Holdings Ltd., Kyiv, Ukraine A company founded in 2002. It was owned by Ukrainian oligarch and 2010-2014 politician (in a pro-Russian government) Nikolai Zlochevskyi and his fellow oligarch-	2002/2011

politician partner Mykola Lisin. However, in 2011, the same year Lisin died when he crashed his Lamborghini Diablo at 270kmh into a gas station (yes, really), ownership was shifted about. Ownership went to Brociti Investments Limited, which still was controlled by Zlochevskyi. However, the offices of Pari LLC and Esko-Pivnich LLC were moved to 10a Rylyeyeva Street, Kyiv, the same address as the company Ukrnaftoburinnya, the exploiter of Ukraine's largest gas field secretly owned by notorious gangster oligarch Ihor Kolomoyskyi, a key financier of pro-West presidential candidates and Nazi-esque Ukrainian militias fighting Russian independence. In 2011-2012 Ukrnaftoburinnya CEO Oleh Kanivets eventually confirmed Ihor was the secret owner of Ukrnaftoburinnya, Burisma, Pari LLC and Esko-Pivnich LLC.[1]*

Since 2014, Nikolai Zlochevskyi has been continually on the run for "theft of government funds on an especially large scale". In 2014 Deutsche Bank flagged transactions totaling $24 million from his companies registered in Cyprus to Kolomoyskyi's PrivatBank, accused of laundering $5.5 billion.

Management board: Leonid Petukhov (first CEO 2013-; Harvard and McKinsey background) | Denis Rudev (CFO '13-; Morgan Stanley London and McKinsey Moscow background) | Nikolay Zlochevskyi / Nikolai Zlochevsky / Mykola Zlochevsky (president anno '17, but not visible on the Burisma site in 2014-2016).

Board: Alan Apter (first chair May 2013-; Morgan Stanley and Merrill Lynch veteran) | Aleksander Kwasniewski (Jan. '14-, but only listed on website from Jun., as the 4th director for the next few years) | Devon Archer (April '14-'18; senior adviser 2004 Kerry presidential campaign) | Hunter Biden (April '14 - April '19) | Cofer Black (Jan. 2017-; notorious CIA anti-terrorism chief at the time of 9/11).

- Supporter of Orange Revolution / Orange Circle politicians. Funder Yulia Tymoshenko, PM Ukraine 2007-2010 (accused by Viktor Y. himself in 2005 of trying to force control of the Nikopol Ferroalloy Plant from Viktor P. to Ihor K.); and Viktor Yushchenko, president Ukraine 2005-2010. Said to be a top funder of Vitali Klitschko's UDAR Party in 2012, which was denied.
- 70% owner 1+1 Media Group whose TV channel 1+1 aired 'Servant of the People', the 2015-2019 comedy series of (fellow Jew) Volodymyr Zelensky, who became president of Ukraine in 2019. Involved in money laundering with Zelensky, who came to power on an anti-oligarch and anti-money laundering agenda.
  - April 1, 1999, BBC, 'Ukraine election: Comedian leads presidential contest': "[Since at least 2010] Mr. Kolomoisky is the owner of TV channel 1+1 - which has given fulsome support to Mr Zelensky. The oligarch, who lives in self-imposed exile, faces numerous investigations in Ukraine into his business dealings. But Mr Zelensky has insisted he is "no puppet" of Mr Kolomoisky. ...

- Extremely close ally in Jewish NGOs and business of Vadim Rabinovich, for example in the European Council of Jewish Communities, the United Jewish Community of Ukraine, the European Jewish Union, the European Jewish Parliament, etc. Rabinovich is a person who is a leading member of the (Jewish) Mogilevich organization, in turn the long-time partner of Russia's most powerful mafia, Solntsevskaya, and had highest level ties to Ukrainian intelligence (similar as has been reported about Mogilevich). Bizarrely, Rabinovich poses as a major political opponent of fellow-Jew Zelensky, who is still close to his long-time ally Kolomoisky:

Spiegel said the deal was conducted through the Pakistani secret service and uncovered by the Russian foreign intelligence service, SVR, in Kabul, the Afghan capital. A Western intelligence source told the Public Integrity Center that Rabinovich's weapons had been airlifted by one of [arm dealer Victor] Bout's airfreight companies from his base in the UAE.     Gontareva's house in Kyiv was firebombed last month in an attack that many said was retribution over leadership in nationalizing PrivatBank from its oligarch owner Ihor Kolomoisky. Last month, Gontareva was hit by a car in London, where she now lives.
    Former comedian Zelenskiy had business dealings with Kolomoyskyi's media holdings"

[1.] August 26, 2012, antac.org.ua, 'Kings of Ukrainian Gas' (antac.org.ua/2012/08/kings-of-ukrainian-gas/): "Our investigation began with a scandal. In order to find out who has been receiving the largest gas deposits during Yanukovych's presidency, we sent a request to the State Service of Geology and Mineral Resources. The official response of Derzhgeonadr was somewhat unexpected. The list of companies that was returned to us included only state entities. But ... no private ones or persons. ...

As "Slidstvo.Info" soon discovered... "You're wasting your time waiting for them to answer".- told us the head of a department at the State Service of Geology and Mineral Resources in a private conversation- "As soon as Stavytsky was appointed Minister of Environment and Natural Resources [April - Dec. 2012, under President Yanukovych], we were ordered to conceal all information on reserves and owners of gas deposits as much as possible. Moreover, even if you get true information officially, you actually cannot use it [read: "It's useless"]. Because totally different persons and companies are really behind the official owner. For example, Oleksandr Yanukovych, the President's son doesn't get licenses for his company directly, but through the Zasyadko mine." ..." The tastiest and largest morsels (gas fields) were obtained not by the president's son, but by a more experienced businessman – Ihor Kolomoisky. ... Pari LLC and Esko-Pivnich LLC ... belonged to Mykola Zlochevsky and his deceased partner [who died in a traffic accident in 2011], Mykola Lisin some time ago. They controlled them through a Cypriot company - Burisma Holdings Limited. The website of the US Securities and Exchange Commission still mentions it. But, Burisma changed owners last year [in 2011]: ... the company was taken over by a Cypriot off-shore enterprise called Brociti Investments Ltd. Pari [LLC] and Esko-Pivnich [LLC] also changed their address: they moved from Kateryny Bilokur Street to 10a Rylyeyeva Street in Kyiv. A third company was already waiting for them in the same building - the above-mentioned Ukrnaftoburinnya. If these three companies were brought together under one roof, it's logical to assume that they were all owned by one person. At least "Slidstvo.Info" managed to find out the name of the owner of Ukrnaftoburinnya. According to the SMIDA state system, 90% of Ukrnaftoburinnya [controls the largest gas field in Ukraine] is owned by a Cypriot company, Deripon Commercial Ltd. ... The end owner of Deripon Commercial Ltd. is a company based in the British Virgin Islands - Burrad Financial Corp. [Shows a document of Burrad owning Deripon, with "Last Date of Changes" dating to "29/12/2009"] This company has often been involved in various financial schemes of the Privat Group and especially with Ihor Kolomoisky. ... The owners of Ukrnaftoburinnya, Pari, and Esko-Pivnich were finally confirmed through first-hand sources. Oleh Kanivets worked as CEO of Ukrnaftoburinnya for two years. He confirmed who actually controlled the above-mentioned companies to "Slidstvo.Info". "- The Privat Group is the immediate owner.""

Copy from the Jan. 4, 1978, Congressional Record of a Dec. 15, 1977 presentation of Congressman George Hanson from Idaho, 'Carter's Canal Treaties - A Bail Out for the Big Banks': "In one advertisement for a $115 million loan to Panama, for example, the First National City Bank is listed as the agent for the loan. Other participating banks included the Bank of America, Banker's Trust, Chase Manhattan ... and of course Sol [L.]'s Marine Midland Bank [of which he was a director until March 1977].* Mr. Speaker, one might well ask, "Why did these New York banks pour all that money into Torrijos' hands?" It seems very clear that the loans were a trade off for Torrijos' decision--on the advice of leading New York banks--to reorganize Panama's banking laws in July 1970. This reorganization provided a favorable haven, free of taxes and onerous regulations, for foreign banks in Panama, much as Panama has long provided a flag of convenience for world shipping. Since the 1970 legal change, total banking asets in Panama ... have expanded enormously from a few banks with a few million dollars to 73 international banks with total assets of $8.6 billion, conducting transactions throughout the world. Prominent among the U.S. banks expanding rapidly in Panama since the 1970 legislation are the First National City Bank, the Bank of America, Chase Manhattan, and the Marine Midland Bank. ... The U.S. banks received a haven for their operations and the Torrijos regime was able to	1977 acquire great sources of funds as well as solidify its political power in Panama. But now the taxpayer is being subtly asked to bail out the banks... Mr. Speaker, [now we have] a group called the Committee of Americans for the Canal Treaty, Inc., which has been working with President [C.] ... to obtain ratification of the proposed treaties in the U.S. Senate and unconstitutionally bypass consideration by the House of Rep- resentatives ..."

Quilliam Foundation Supposedly a Pro-Islam lobby that combats Muslim extremism. However, the foundation has a rather schizophrenic approach in that it is rather pro-neocon, pro-Israel and pro-spying on alleged Muslim extremists in the West, but at the same time critical of Dutch neocon Geert Wilders. It is also named after a 19th-century British convert to Islam who founded Britain's first mosque and called for a global Caliphate. Claims it works on a "West friendly" version of Islam. *Would ordinarily receive liberal establishment backing because it criticizes anti-Islam conservative leaders as Geert Wilders. However, in reality is receives tons of neocon backing. Financiers: Criticized for having received 1 million pounds in start-up funds from the British government. Arab banks and charities tied to terror, dictators and western elites

Bank of Credit and Commerce International (BCCI) Registered in Luxembourg with head offices in Pakistan and England. Involved: Agha Hasan Abedi (founder and president throughout its existence) | Sheikh Zayed bin Sultan al-Nahyan (among the initial financiers and the major shareholder; president UAE 1971–2004) | Alfred Hartmann (major Rothschild banker and director and president of BCCI's secret Swiss subsidiary BCP, CFO BCC Holding; also a director of the related BNL bank and reportedly also involved in Banco Ambrosiano) | Khalid bin Mahfouz (director; paid a $225 million fine for his role) | Abur Sakhia (general manager BCCI New York) | Mohammed Hammoud (shareholder; borrowed over $110 million from BCCI which was never repaid (BCCI made a staggering $1,5 billion worth of loans to its own shareholders); suddenly died in 1990) | Sir Frederic Bennett (MI6-connected aristocrat who was honorary director of the BCCI in Hong Kong until 1986 and listed himself as a consultant) | Sir Julian Ridsdale (consultant) | Julian Amery (consultant) | Henry Kissinger (consultant to the BCCI through Kissinger Assoc. 1986-early 1989). Involved in the bank, according to the senate investigative committee: William Casey (CIA director who reportedly met every few months with Abedi at the Madison Hotel in the mid-1980s; used the bank to finance the Afghanistan Mujahideen and reportely also to launder the proceeds of the heroin that the Mujahideen produced) | Clark Clifford | Richard Helms | Adnan Khashoggi | Kamal Adham | Abdul Raouf Khalil | Manucher Ghorbanifar | Esam Ghazzawi (held money for Prince Fahd bin Salman, son of Prince Salman, a brother of King Fahd, in a BCCI branch; later hosted 9/11 ringleader Mohammed Atta at his home in the months before 9/11; suddenly fled the U.S. less than two weeks before 9/11; Prince Fahd mysteriously died in July 2001, followed a year later by his elder brother and two other princes) | Nicholas Katzenbach (chair 1991-). Also: Prince Turki (shareholder, who funneled over $1 billion dollars in aid to the Mujahideen and would have helped launder the heroin proceeds; reportedly met with Osama bin Laden, his old protege, just weeks before 9/11, along with a CIA officer).	1972-1991
First Arabian Corporation Founders and shareholders: Saudi intelligence chief Kamel Adham | Prince Abdullah bin Musaid bin Abdul Rahman | Sheikh Salem bin Ladin | Roger Tamraz | Ghaith Pharaon	1973
Saudi Investment Company (SICO) An international subsidiary of the Saudi Binladen Group ran by Yeslam bin Laden, a half brother of Osama bin Laden. Already in 1999 French intelligence linked the company to the financing of Osama bin Laden's terrorist network. In addition, Yeslam owned Avcon Business Jets SA and is known to have sent at least one person to the same tiny Florida airport where 9/11 ringleader Mohammed Atta and some of his aides were trained by CIA and White House-linked individuals. Also on the board: Shakarshi family (linked to drug trafficking and money laundering).	1980
Saar Foundation Raided in 2002 for connections to the Muslim Brotherhood bank Al-Taqwa and other terrorist financing. Officers: Sulaiman Abdul Al-Aziz al-Rajhi (founder; worth estimated between $5.9 and $7.7 bln in 2011; major shareholder in the 1957-founded family's Al-Rajhi Bank, one Saudi Arabia's largest banks repeatedly tied to terrorist financing, including 9/11; name appeared on the "Golden Chain", a list of 20 Al-Qaeda financiers; 2003, CIA report, 'Al Rajhi Bank: Conduit for Extremist Finance') | Yaqub Mirza (CEO 1984-2002) | Dr. Cherif Sedky (trustee and secretary; lawyer to Khalid bin Mahfouz, the controversial Bush-tied BCCI banker and "Golden Chain" Al-Qaeda financier) | Abdurahman Alamoudi (exec. assistant to the president 1985-1990; U.S. immigrant 1979-; repeated Hamas supporter; founder Islamic Soc. of Boston in 1981; founder American Muslim Council in 1990; founder American Muslim Armed Forces and Veterans Affairs Council in 1991; Islamic affairs advisor and "goodwill ambassador" to Muslim nations under Clinton in the*	1983-2002

1990s). More: Mohamed Hadid (50-50 partner with Saar in many projects in the 1980s and likely 1990s; father of supermodels Bella and Gigi Hadid; claims descent from 18th century northern Palestine ruler Zahir al-Umar; family fled Palestine to Syria, where father Anwar joined for USIA and Voice of America, stationed in Damascus, Tunisia, Greece and finally Washington, D.C., where Mohamed became a major real estate developer through a 50-50 partnership with Saar). 1996 Annual Convention in Illinois, Islamic Association of Palestine, words of Abdulrahman Alamoudi: "It depends on me and you, either we do it now or we do it after a hundred years, but this country will become a Muslim country. And I think if we are outside this country we can say, "Oh, Allah destroy America," but once we are here, our mission in this country is to change it. [Not clear if he was asked this, or just supported these men:] When will you talk to the President to free Brother Musa Marzook [a senior Palestine Hamas member]? ... When will you talk to the President to free Sheikh Omar Abdel-Rahman ["The Blind Sheikh"; convicted in 1995 for plotting bombings in the US]? Brothers, it's an investment, we all are in this together, unless you help us with it, we cannot do it." April 24, 1989, WaPo: "The [Saar] foundation is a 50-50 partner in many of Hadid's ventures, a Herndon-based foundation with Saudi roots... He estimates his net worth at $90 million. ... Has had to fight off a series of 30 or more lawsuits from creditors and banks [but is backed by] no less a mainline firm than Morgan Stanley... Mitsubishi Bank Ltd. provided a $60 million acquisition and construction loan for Hadid's new building at 1001 New York Ave. NW in the District."* Oct. 7, 2020, Washington Post, 'U.S. Trails Va. Muslim Money, Ties': "By investing the Rajhis' money with Washington real estate developer Mohamed Hadid, [Saar Fdn. CEO Yaqub Mirza] made SAAR one of the region's biggest landlords in the 1980s. "The funds came very easily," said a businessman who dealt with SAAR. "If they wanted a few milliom dollars, they called the al-Rajhis, who would send it along." ...* Steve Emerson, a terrorism expert who has studied SAAR for six years, said that "although the SAAR network presents a moderate profile, they have contacts and connections to Islamic groups here an abroad that are under investigation for ties to terrorism. ... After the 1995 Tampa searches, investigators widened that probe, launching a related investigation the SAAR network, which lasted into the late 1990s. In 1998, National Security Council aides in the Clinton White House pushed the FBI to intensify that SAAR investigation. But knowledgeable sources said the FBI declined because of fears that a probe would be seen as ethnic profiling." July 23, 2003, Committee on Governmental Affairs, 'Terrorism Financing', Volume 4, pp. 83, 120: "Foreign minister Prince Saud al-Faisal told the Saudi daily Arab News on June 23, 2003 [that] the Saudi Arabian Kingdom only sends funding through the PLO. He denied that the Saudis finance Hamas. Yet during Israel's Operation Defensive Shield last year, a whole array of documents was uncovered which show these repeated Saudi denials to be completely baseless. ... Checks made out to well-known Hamas fronts from the corporate account of al-Rajhi Banking and Investment at Chase Manhattan Bank were also uncovered. ... In the U.S., funding of numerous charities by Suleiman Abdul Al-Aziz al-Rajhi, a senior member of one of Saudi Arabia's most prominent families. These charities, largely based in Herndon, Virginia, are according to press reports under current investigation by the FBI and have been in turn linked to Muslim Brotherhood specially designated terrorist finance company Al-Taqwa."
Benevolence International Foundation (BIF) Adel Batterjee (co-founder) | Mohammed Jamal Khalifa (co-founder; Saudi Arabian businessman who married a sister of Osama; killed by JSOC in 2007) | Osama bin Laden (capitalized with $50 million by him and associates of his) | Ibn al-Khattab (financed) | Sheikh Fathi Shishani (financed). The Golden Chain list: The list was found in March 2002 in a raid by Bosnian police of the headquarters of the Benevolence International Foundation in Sarajevo. The Golden	1988

Chain is a list of sponsors of Al-Qaeda. Names leaked by the Wall Street Journal are: Saleh Kamel | Khalid bin Mahfouz | Sulaiman Abdul Al-Aziz al-Rajhi | "the brothers" of Osama bin Laden.
Banca Nazionale del Lavoro (BNL) affair Officers: Alfred Hartmann (director; Rothschild banker also deeply involved in the BCCI affair)/ International advisory board: Henry Kissinger (international advisory board 1985-1991 and encouraged the $4,5 billion in loans made to strenghten Iraq against the Ayatollah in Iran) | David Rockefeller | Pierre Trudeau | Pehr Gyllenhammar (controlled Volvo at the time which was cooperation with BNL in receiving loans for Iraq-based business)	1989
Muwafaq Foundation / Blessed Relief Yassin al-Qadi (founder and chair; associate of Osama bin Laden) | Khalid bin Mahfouz (principal financier). Opened branches in Mogadishu, Somalia and Bosnia, apparently to support Muslim terrorists. Also lend support to Hamas and Abu Sayyef.	1991-1998
Al Haramain Foundation Saleh bin Abdul-Aziz Al ash-Sheikh (chair; Saudi minister of Islamic affairs and endowments since 1996; fired officers and disbanded the charity in June 2004 after reports of terrorist financing) | Aqeel Abdulaziz Aqeel al-Aqeel / Aqil Abdulaziz Al - Aqil (founder and general manager 1988- Jan. 2004) | Mansour al-Kadi (deputy general until Jan. 2004) | Wa'el Hamza Julaidan (director from at least 1997 to 2004; president Tuscon Islamic Center 1984-1985) | King Abdullah Bin Abdulaziz (donor while crown prince in 2003, as mentioned by al-Aqeel in late 2003). Apparently Ruslan Saidov was the manager of the foundation's Kavkaz/Caucasus center. Saidov was a key partner in Far West Ltd., for which, among other things, he managed a 5% stake of Al Haramain. Other 5% stake holders apparently were Saudi intelligence chief Prince Turki al Faisal, a reported friend of Saidov, and notorious arms dealer Adnan Khashoggi. U.S. partners of Far West included retired top CIA officer Fritz Ermarth, KBR Halliburton (under Cheney when it co-founded Far West in 1998) and Diligence, LLC, co-founded by William Webster and tightly linked to Carlyle and the Bush administration, and, later on, the Rothschild family. United Nations Security Council Committee pursuant to resolutions 1267 (1999) and 1989 (2011) concerning Al-Qaida and associated individuals and entities: "Julaidan was a member of Al-Haramain & Al-Aqsa's board of directors, and he opened three bank accounts on behalf of the NGO between 1997 and 2001. As at 2003, Julaidan continued to have authority to handle two of Al-Haramain & Al Masjed al-Aqsa's bank accounts as a signatory of its two Bosnian accounts. Al-Haramain & Al Masjed al-Aqsa Charity Foundation in Bosnia and Herzegovina was linked to the Saudi Arabia-based Al-Haramain Islamic Foundation which presented itself as a private, charitable and educational non-governmental organization. When viewed as a single entity, Al-Haramain was one of the principal NGOs active throughout the world providing support for the Al-Qaida network. Funding generally came from individual benefactors and special campaigns which targeted selected business entities around the world. "	1988-2004
Banque Al Saoudi / Banque Francaise pour l'Orient Merged with Rafic Hariri's Mediterranee group. Directors: Prince Mohammed Ben Fahd (honorary chair) | Sheik Salem bin Laden | Sheik Bogshan | Khalid Ben Mahfouz	1989
Mercy International Relief Agency Founding directors: Waheed Almasry, Faisal Alahmadi, Abdalaziz Farsi, Dr Safar Alhawali, Dr Abdallah Aldomaiji, Dr Mohamed Said Algahtani, Dr Soliman Alsaloomi. Founded in Dublin. Forged passports for Osama bin Laden and other terrorists and served as a logistical aide for international terrorism in Kenya and the Balkans.	1992

Liberal establishment: Israel relations

Virtually non-existent due to the importance of Arab oil. Even the AIFL was largely initiated by pro-Zionist conservative interests. Most relationships with Israel go through the conservatives, both the neocons and radical religious right.

Cosmos Club, Washington, D.C. Under intense JFK administration pressure, the club allowed its first black member in 1962. In 1973, 1975 and 1980 the club voted against allowing women. In 1987, under threat from Washington, D.C.'s Human Rights Office that the club was violating "anti-discrimination laws", all of a sudden 98% of members voted in favor of allowing women. The club has always been heavily focused on scientists and writers, and less on government officials and businessmen. A popular sayin in the 1960s was: "Over there is the Metropolitan Club whose members have money but no brains. Over there is the Cosmos Club, whose members have the brains, but no money. And here is the Army-Navy Club whose members have neither brains nor money." [1] *Members/applicants who resigned/withdrew over not allowing blacks in 1961-1962: John F. resettlement of some of the 900,000 who fled from North Vietnam to South Vietnam. ... I again turned to Bill Casey in 1965. He went to Vietnam, intensively studied the needs, the refugees, the orphans... [His] recommendations led to very substantially more effective and larger programs, humanitarian in nature. ... Organizations like the [IRC] have always had great difficulty of attracting public support for finance. ... I specifically recall Bill Casey's recommendations to his colleagues that above all else we enlarge the assistance we provide to those fleeing Greece, those fleeing Haiti, and those political refugees fleeing totalitarian countries in Africa. ... It was on August 22, 1968, 2 days after Soviet tanks moved into Czechoslovakia ... Casey phoned me and asked if he could be of any help to the committee. If so, he was prepared immediately to fly overseas. [We both did to] survey the situation of outcoming refugees. ... Casey spoke to ... Willy Brandt [incoming German chancellor 1969-1974]. ... Recalling the role that the [IRC] was able to play during the Hungarian revolution in 1956, I made the decision that we would make an effort to get into Czechoslovakia, established contact with some of the student groups involved, and see if we might be of help."

Background: Extremely low-profile. Organized by the American Bankers Association (ABA), but no mention of it on the website. The conference itself only sets up temporary websites - imc2019.org, imc2020.org, etc. - without any public information. It is only meant for members to log in to. In 1980 conference visitors were picked up at the airport by unmarked police cars.

But deterrence should be the only purpose of the stockpile of bombs. In the same way I believe that the United Nations should have the atomic bomb when it is supplied with its own armed forces and weapons. The Russians have made it clear that they will do everything in their power to prevent a supranational regime from coming into existence. They not only reject it in the range of atomic energy: they reject it sharply on principle, and thus have spurned in advance any overture to join a limited world government."*	1983

"Visitors" (curiously, almost all "center left" repesentatives of (still anti-communist) political movements opposing CIA-Mossad-big business-backed dictatorships; this mirrors the old superclass/CIA strategy of supporting the anti-communist leftists besides right-wing dictators):

- Benazir Bhutto ('85; Harvard and Oxford-educated "neoliberal socialist" future first PM of Pakistan 1988-1990, 1993-1996, until assassinated by the ISI/Al-Qaeda).*
- Frits Bolkestein ('85; actually an unusual neocon-inclined right-winger in the Netherlands who moved into politics from Shell Oil; his proteges included later "misguided" populist Geert Wilders).*
- John Hume ('86; co-founder and 1979-2001 head of Ireland's Social Democratic and Labour Party).*
- Ricardo Arias Calderon ('86; Yale and the Sorbonne-educated politician whose Christian Democratic Party of Panama opposed the CIA-Mossad-backed military dictatorship of Manuel Noriega (ruled 1983-1989)).*
- Roberto Brenes: ('89; investment banker and publisher of the weekly Financial Gazette; anno 1987-1988 spokesman of the anti-Noriega protest group Civic Crusade, representing 35 professional guilds in Panama; anno 1988 president of the Association of Panamanian Business Executives, a coalition of about 200 businesses and labor unions that also campaigned against Noriega; deported to the U.S. in Dec. 1988 by Noriega, after reports of "clandestine opposition radio" emerged in Panama).*
- Roderick Esquivel ('86; U.S.-educated professor at the University of Panama; liberal Party vice president of Panama 1985-1987, and president 1988-1989, who continually opposed Noriega's dictatorial powers, for which he was removed from office in 1989.)*
- Guillermo Cochez: ('89; educated in law at Tulane University in New Orleans, U.S.; mayor of Panama City 1989-1991, after Noriega's fall; representative of Panama to the Organization of American States (OAS) 2009-2013, where he was among the few to harshly criticize communist-inclined regimes as Hugo Chavez and Fidel Castro).
- Jorge Fernandez ('86; politician of the socialist (Socialist International) Radical Civil Union in Argentine that opposed the CIA-Mossad-backed military dictatorships).*
- Adan Morales Hernandez ('86; visited as "secretary of International Relations, Social Democralic Party, Nicaragua" (he was a co-founder), which was the Partido Social Democrata (PSD, 1979-1994), a center-left party and tried to get into the Socialist International, opposed the CIA-Mossad-big business-backed Somoza regime, but also opposed the Marxist Sandinistas).*
- Ramiro Gurdian: ('89; in July 1988 appointed head of the Democratic Coordinator, "Nicaragua's main anti-Sandinista coalition" representing "private enterprise". The group was a major organizer of protests against the Marxist Sandinista regime).*
- Andres Zuniga Mercado ('89; anno 1989 headed a small neoliberal fraction of Nicaragua's Independent Liberal Party, opposing the communist Sandinistas; travelled to D.C. every 6 weeks on invitation at this point).*
- Osvaldo Verdugo ('86; president of the Chilean Teachers Association who was quoted as saying to the press in 1987, "Now, instead of one Pinochet we are dealing with 400", referring to Pinochet-appointed mayors overseeing a new school system since '86; Pinochet was supported by CIA-Mossad-big business).*
- Monica Jimenez: ('89 at the NED; daughter of Oscar Jimenez, a health minister under Chilean president Salvador Allende, who was overthrown in a CIA-backed coup in 1973; Fulbright scholarship at the Catholic University of America in Washington D.C. in 1981; one of eight members of the 1990-1991 National Commission for Truth and Reconciliation that looked into abuses of the Pinochet regime; brother of Jorge Jimenez, 1990-1992 health minister under President Patricio Aylwin, consulting with the World Bank, Rockefeller Fdn., USAID and other NGOs in the post-Pinochet era; Jorge became WTO chair in 2000-2001 and kept involved with the Rockefeller Fdn.)*
- Shulamit Aloni ('86; pro-Palestine/Hamas left-wing politician; chair "lib CIA" Meretz Party 1992-1996 campaigning against the Likud-Mossad death squad clique).*

▸ Hung Chi-chang ('86; partly educated in Toronto, Canada; visited as "Chi-Chang Hong" and listed as "Member, League of Opposition, Taiwan", which operated under the presidency of Hung Chi-chang in 1985 in countering the dictatorship of the CIA-backed anti-communist Kuomintang; in 1986 Chi-chang co-founded the center-left Democratic Progressive Party, the main opposition party to the Kuomintang that became dominant in 2016). ▸ Ellen Johnson Sirleaf ('86; Harvard-educated World Bank and Citibank banker who served as deputy finance minister 1971-1974 and then in 1979-1980 finance minister under slightly-nationalist-but-still-oligarchical Liberia president William Tolbert, fleeing before he was overthrown and killed by the big business/CIA-backed Samuel Doe; supporter of Khadaffi-backed emerging genocidal warlord Charles Taylor and his civil war against Doe in 1989-1990 (leading to over another decade of civil war); first female president Liberia 2006-2018). *Source(s): 1989 annual report, NDI; ndi.org/ndi/about/ board/board.htm (accessed: Aug. 16, 2000); ndi.org/about/ bdadv/bdadv.asp (accessed: Feb. 24, 2002 - Sep. 25, 2008); ndi.org/node/10 (accessed: Nov. 30, 2009 - March 10, 2013): "Board of directors... Oude Loo Conferenties / Oude Loo Conferences 17 weekly interfaith conferences organized between 1951 and 1957 at castle Oude Loo, owned by Princess Wilhelmina of Orange-owned (Dutch queen 1890-1948). The first meeting counted 130 participants, after 200 had been invited. Later meetings counted about 180 participants. Regular conference visitor Professor Gilles Quispel (author on hermeticism and Gnostic Christianity) in 'Andere Tijden': "America and Russia were never discussed. Neither the arms race. The meetings were meant to try to find a synthesis between Christianity and the world religions. [Hofmans] was an introvert, sexless woman..." The group was inspired by Queen Julia advisor Greet Hofmans and her ally, Johan Willem Kaiser. Both were heavily inspired by the teachings of Jiddu Krishnamurti, an Indian Theosophist who each summer between 1921 and 1929 came to the Netherlands as part of the Order of the Star, the Dutch branch operating from Castle Eerde from 1924 to 1929. The castle was provided to the group by Baron Philip van Pallandt, whose cousin Rudolf was a senator. During the last "star camp" in 1929 3,000 followers from 48 countries were brought together by Krishnamurti. Krishnamurti had been raised from age 11 by Charles Webster Leadbeater and Annie Besant, the leaders of the Theosophical Society, to become the new World Teacher / Maitreya, making the Oude Loo Conferences at the very least an offshoot of the Theosophical Society. Apart from Bernhard's extramarital affairs, the conferences caused a rift between Prince Bernhard and Queen Julia. When the latter eventually told Bernhard to leave the palace, Bernhard leaked details of his wife's association with Greet Hofmans and the conferences to his journalist friend Sefton Delmer, which in turn resulted in an article in Der Spiegel, causing a political crisis. The so-called Greet Hofmans Affair forced Juliana to distance herself from the group. Afterwards, the group continued under the name "Oude Veld Conferences" until 1968. As part of her terms for leaving the Oude Loo Conferences, Juliana demanded that Bernhard withdrew himself from Bilderberg, but the investigative committee never made this public and the association between Bilderberg and the royal house of Orange continued unhindered. Participants: Greet Hofmans (central figure, but only behind the scenes, because she did not speak English; spiritual medium who advised Queen Juliana since 1948, when Bernhard brought her to Palace Soestdijk in relation to Princess Marijke's eye-disease; her spirit communications guided the content of the conferences) | Johan Willem Kaiser (conference organizer and close ally of Hofmans; former director Stoomvaart Maatschappij Nederland; financed by Princess Wilhelmina) | Baroness Van Heeckeren van Molecaten (member organizing committee; personal secretary of Queen Juliana; after Greet Hofmans contacted her in 1946, she provided her with a place at her domain, from which her fame grew) | Queen Julia of Orange and friends (annual conference visitor) | Queen Mother Wilhelmina (annual conference visitor) | Eleanor Roosevelt (present at the second conference, but labeled it "fanatical") | Frits Philips (of the elite Philips company) | Pierson banking family | Viruly industrial family | Fokker family (of the Dutch airplane builder) | Jiddu Krishnamurti | Martin Buber (Jewish religious philosophist) | Rabbi Jacob Soetendorp | Friedrich Würzbach (founder Nietzsche Society; half-Jew who was a complete Nazi, but still dismissed by the party) | Annemarie Schimmel (German scholar on Islam and Sufism; Harvard professor 1967-1992) | Zafrullah Khan (founding father of Pakistan).	1951-1957

Also: Frederick Gates (original board member and president, chair 1907-1917; principal business advisor to John D. Rockefeller Sr. 1891-1923, who invested most Rockefeller money with syndicates organized by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and to a lesser extent J.P. Morgan & Co.; also advised Rockefeller Jr. later on philanthropic affairs).* March 28, 1919, New York Globe, Dr. W. S. Spillman, former federal farm management chief under the secretary of agriculture: "Nine years ago [1910] I was approached by an agent of Mr. Rockefeller with the statement that his object in establishing the General Education Board was to gain control of the educational institutions of the country so	1902 that all men employed in them might be 'right.' I was then informed that the Board has been successful with smaller institutions but that the larger institutions had refused to accept Rockefeller money with strings tied to it. My informant said that Rockefeller was going to add $100,000,000 to the Foundation for the express purpose of forcing his money on the big institutions." "Henry Demarest Lloyd, in Wealth Against Commonwealth, published in 1894, and Ida Tarbell, in a [19-piece McClure's] magazine series [running from 1902 to 1904, followed with a book], had tarred and feathered the Standard Oil Trust. The Socialist movement was winning the support of working people throughout the country for its program to do away with private capital altogether. And perhaps most frightening at all, upstanding middle-class Americans... were joining the call for Progressive reforms ... for constraints on the accumulation and concentration of private wealth. [Theodore] Roosevelt was elected in 1904 on a platform that at least threatened to break up monopolies. "I trembled," Gates later recalled, "as I witnessed the unreasoning popular resentment at Mr. Rockefeller's riches, to the mass of the people a national menace." Gates might believe that Rockefeller "used his wealth only in the public interest," that his fortune had been created by economies rather than theft [etc.] But few people in the country ... agreed with him. In the fall of 1906 the federal government launched a major suit to break up the Standard Oil Trust."

American Eugenics Society Leon F. Whitney (secretary; dog breeder). Whitney sent his 1934 book 'The Case for Sterilization' to Hitler, for which he received a congratulatory note. The book of his colleague Madison Grant had an even greater effect on Hitler.	1922
Lucis Trust Originally named Lucifer's Trust. In the 1980s Robert McNamara was repeatedly named as a member/director by Lyndon Larouche's group, which also talked to representatives of the trust. Of course, Larouche's groups tend to be rather cultic and skimpy when it comes to providing physical evidence, but they seldom - if ever - make up memberships. Lucis Trust has refused to answer this author regarding any questions about past directorships or financial support, but looking at this list of conservation-linked NGOs it would be almost strange if Robert M., Maurice S. and the Rockefeller Fdn. haven't been involved to a degree.	1922
Central Selling Organization De Beers diamond cartel. Oppenheimer family controlled.	1934
Pioneer Fund Founding directors: Wickliffe Preston Draper | Harry Laughlin | Frederick Osborn. Other directors: John M. Woolsey, Jr. | Charles Codman Cabot. Lost a lot of relevancy after WWII in terms of elitism, after Anglo-Saxon eugenics policies were banned. However, since the 1990s Fund director Richard Lynn has been making waves as the premier investigator of worldwide IQ differences among races.	1937
Wilderness Society Governing council: Theodore Roosevelt IV (1998-, still anno 2020). Really the only recognizable name over the decades.	1937
War of the Worlds broadcast A psychological warfare experiment financed by the Rockefeller Fdn.	Oct. 30, 1938
Outward Bound Trust David Schiff (director 1983-1999). Lynn Forester (a trustee) and Sir Evelyn de Rothschild organized a fundraiser in September 2002. Present: Jacob Rothschild | Prince Andrew | Arthur Sulzberger (chair of the New York Trust). Funders: Donors to the New York Trust include every major liberal establishment bank and corporation, as well as individuals as John Whitehead and Richard Holbrooke.	1941
Temple of Religion, New York World Fair William Osborn (director NYWF, president of the temple; married into Dodge family)	1939
United Nations Association (UNA) Set up just before the creation of the UN.	1943

Business Council of the United Nations (BCUN) Very obscure history, but apparently founded in 1959. For the first 50 years it was part of the United Nations Association, alternately referred to as a "partner organization" or as a program. Since at least the early 2000s it has been listed as a program of the United Nations Fdn., set up in 1998. BCUN.org has been registered since 2001, but it always linked back to the UNF. Eventually, no later than September 2018, the group's website became businesscouncilfortheun.org, where we find the exact same logo as the September 14, 1994 Rockefeller speech. And yet, the page's history says the group is "an initiative of the [1998-founded] United Nations [Fdn.]." The council could have been revived, and certainly was transferred, but, as said, its history remains rather obscure. Board: Samuel Brookfield (president anno 1994) | Richard Voell (chairman anno 1994; president and CEO Rockefeller Group/Rockefeller Center anno 1982-1995). *Speakers: David Rockefeller (speaker on Sep. 14, 1994) | Rudolph Giuliani (speaker on Sep. 14, 1994) | R. Peace Academy (IPA) Group with a very strong United Nations and Arab influence, and largely serves as an interfaith body. Founder: Ruth Forbes Young (first-rate deep cover CIA asset and most complex conspiracy story ever, explained, with charts, in ISGP's JFK assassination article: Forbes family heir; known as Ruth Forbes Paine until 1948, she was the mother of Michael Paine, who, along with his wife Ruth Paine (yes, correct, Ruth's daughter-in-law)	1970

befriended Lee Harvey Oswald and wife Marina through infamous elite CIA asset George de Mohrenschildt and became the couple's "handlers", to the point that Michael's wife arranged a job for Oswald at the Texas School Book Depository (of CIA asset D. Harold Byrd) from where Oswald assassinated JFK weeks later; additionally, Ruth Forbes Young was a close friend of Mary Bancroft, a lover of CIA director and Warren Commissioner (investigating the JFK assassination) Allen Dulles ——; in 1952, Ruth Forbes Young and her husband Arthur Young - who worked with later Oswald handler Michael Paine at Bell Labs and remained close to him for decades - set up the new age Foundation for the Study of Consciousness, followed in 1973 by the overlapping Institute for the Study of Consciousness at Berkeley, which in turn overlapped greatly with SRI and the Esalen Institute that all stood at the basis of the creation of organized, systematic (CIA) disinformation on topics as spirituality, UFOs and ancient history; Ruth Forbes Young's husband Arthur Young actually had been second-in-command of a 4th such group, Andrija Puharich's Round Table Foundation (Puharich was into psychedelics "research" and brought Uri Geller over from Israeli Mossad circles to the US), which involved Alice Astor as well, and involved in the Round Table's (very unimpressive) channelling of "The Nine" gods of Ancient Egypt; later, Arthur Young, who himself was involved in the Laurance Rockefeller-backed Esalen Institute, served as chief inspiration for the (false) theory that the Dogon tribe was visited by space aliens from the Syrius Star System). Directors: Kofi Annan (1990s-2000s; honorary chair) | Rita Hauser (chair 1990s-2000s) | Ban Ki-moon (2000s; honorary chair) | David Hamburg (1990s-2000s) | Amy Gordon (2000s; MacArthur Fdn.) | Mortimer Zuckerman (2009-2010s; chair emeritus anno 2021) | Kevin Rudd (chair anno 2021) | Jean Todt (15-, anno '21; director Edmond de Rothschild SA 2008-; president FIA 2009-, which oversees Formula 1 and such and appoints stewards to races). *Advisory board: Prince Turki al Faisal (anno '21) | Sheikh Abdullah bin Zayed Al-Nahyan | Olara Otunnu (president 1990-1998, 2000s, still anno '21; a major case of controlled opposition: exposed Ugandan genocide, partly backed by World Bank and U.S. (elites) in a super-unknown documentary released around 2006/2007) | Sir Brian Urquhart | Karel Jan Gustaaf van Oosterom (Netherlands) | Lisa Shields | Bishop Camillo Ballin (Vatican representative) | Sh. Nora von Liechtenstein. Other: Maurice Strong (cooperated with IIEA in preparation for his Stockholm Conference). Barbara Ward Lecture speakers: Mary Robinson / Lindiwe Sisulu / Connie Hedegaard (European Commissioner for Climate Action) / Christiana Figueres / Gro Harlem Brundtland. Source(s): 2003, Nigel Cross, 'Evidence for Hope: The Search for Sustainable Development', opening chapter 3, pp. 19-21 (written by M. F. Strong): "IIED began as the International Institute for Environmental Affairs, established on the initiative of [Bob] Anderson who was its Chairman and principal source of funding. ... When I was appointed Secretary General of the UN Conference on the Human Environment in late 1970, Bob Anderson offered to put the IIEA at my service... I welcomed the assistance, and the Institute convened a number of sessions in New York, Washington and at Aspen which helped to build a constituency for the Conference in some influential circles in business, policy and non-governmental communities at the USA. ... I met Barbara Ward (Lady Jackson) when she visited Ottawa in 1971 to see [ex] Prime Minister Lester Pearson [PM 1963-1968] whose Chief of Staff, Tom Kent [in reality: Pearson's principal policy adviser 1963-1966; deputy minister of manpower and immigration in 1966, later deputy minister of forestry and rural development; Oxford-educated press baron and industrialist: worked for the Manchester Guardian and The Economist early on; editor of The Winnipeg Free Press 1954-59; head Devco 1971-77 and Sydney Steel 1977-79 in NS; dean at Dalhousie 1980-83] was a friend of Barbara's and had worked with her at The Economist. When I first met her in the living room of Tom Kent's home in Ottawa, I had just agreed to take on responsibility for managing preparations for the United Nations Conference on the Human Environment and was eager to have her advice. At that time, developing countries were deeply suspicious of the emerging environment issues as a 'disease of the rich' which could impose new constraints on their central priority of economic development. Thus began one of the most important relationships and valued friendships I have ever been privileged to enjoy. It was key to the success of the Stockholm Conference."

Better World Society Board: Ted Turner (founder) / Jean Michel Cousteau (co-founder) / Maurice Strong (founding president, "briefly"; in his 'Where on Earth Are We Going?' book he claimed he first met Ted after Ted called him in 1981 (!) to ask him to become president of this society) / Yasushi Akashi (founding; UN under-secretary general) / Gro Harlem Brundtland / Jimmy Carter / Dr. Georgy Arbatov (introduced Ted to Mikhail Gorbachev in Moscow to discuss an end to the Cold War) / Alan F. Kay (In his bio, p. 151: "I recall one surprising point [Ted] made: "I spent time with Fidel Castro. We went fishing together. You can tell what kind of a man [someone] is by goin' fishing with him. Fidel is okay."").	1985
Sarfatti Institute Based on the ideas of Coast to Coast AM-affiliated physicist Jack Sarfatti, but never launched. A founding board had (allegedly) been put together already when key	1986-1986

Sarfatti-backer Harold Chipman died. Founding board members: Harold Chipman (president; CIA covert operations veteran and key protege of the notorious Ted Shackley) | Ray Cline (CIA covert operations veteran) | Archibald B. Roosevelt Jr. (grandson of Teddy Roosevelt Jr.; CIA officer from a generational CIA family; at the time director International Relations, Chase Manhattan; d. 1990) | Father Joseph Fessio (Jesuit priest who was the director St. Ignatius Institute, University of San Francisco) | Albert Morris (senior vice president Bank of California) | Chester Bunnell Jr. (director Henry F. Swift & Co.) | Donald Haenlein (president Sarfatti Corporation) | Dr. Arthur Schawlow (physics department, Stanford). Source(s): Founding document papers, provided by Sarfatti himself to ISGP (after ISGP contacting him over his ties to Chipman).
American Water Development, Inc. Private company looking to exploit a giant water reservoir underneath the San Luis Valley, raising worries that it would turn the valley into a desert. Major conflict of interest, especially with the 1998 World Water Commission. Maurice Strong (founder and chair) | William Ruckelshaus (director)	1986
Economic Policy Institute (EPI) Left-leaning "liberal CIA"-backed think tank. epi.org/content.cfm/about (accessed: Dec. 10, 2005): "EPI was established in 1986 ... by a group of economic policy experts that includes Jeff Faux [director anno '06], EPI's first president; economist Barry Bluestone [director anno '06] of Northeastern University; Robert Kuttner [director anno '06], columnist for Business Week and Newsweek and editor of The American Prospect; Ray Marshall [director anno '06], former U.S. secretary of labor and professor at the LBJ School of Public Affairs, University of Texas-Austin; Robert Reich [director anno '06], former U.S. secretary of labor and professor at Brandeis University; and economist Lester Thurow of the MIT Sloan School of Management." *epi.org/about/funder-acknowledgments-and-disclosure-principles/ (accessed: Oct. 4, 2021): "EPI 2020 Donor Acknowledgment List: $200,000 and up: ... Green Earth Foundation Ralph Metzner | McKenna brothers. Financier: Laurance Rockefeller.	1988
Albert Hofmann Foundation Albert Hofmann (Swiss inventor of LSD) | Dr. John Beresford (secretary and advisor) | Myron Stolaroff (treasurer) | Dr. Betty Eisner. Advisors: Dr. Richard Alpert (Ram Dass) | Allen Ginsberg | Dr. George Greer | Dr. Charles Grob | Dr. Stanislav Grof | Dr. Willis Harman | Laura Huxley (wife of Aldous) | Dr. Oscar Janiger | Dr. John Lilly | Dr. Dennis McKenna | Terence McKenna | Dr. Ralph Metzner | Dr. David Nichols | Dr. Humphrey Osmond | Jonathan Ott | Dr. Richard Evans Schultes | Myron Stolaroff | Dr. Charles Tart | Dr. Andrew Weil | Dr. Richard Yensen	1988
Manitou Foundation, Baca Ranch, San Luis Valley Founders: Maurice Strong and Laurance Rockefeller. Also involved: Steven Greer (Baha'i follower who organized CSETI UFO contact trainings at the Baca Ranch and surrounding areas from at least 1993 to 1998, in the same period he was cooperating with Laurance on UFO disclosure). It's a remote spiritual retreat center at the Sangro de Cristo mountains where many world religions have one or two representatives. The location is known for its past UFO activity and for being the first location where cattle mutilations were reported (1967, Snippy case). There appears to be a lot of gnostic symbolism involved and the retreat seems to have a lot in common with the globalist ideas of the Baha'i Faith, which in turn is completely, one hundred percent compatible with the United Nations ideas on world government.	1988
Robin Hood Foundation Paul Tudor Jones II (founder) | Stanley Druckenmiller (chair) | John F. Kennedy, Jr. | Marie-Josee Kravis | Ted Forstmann | Tom Brokaw | Diane Sawyer | Harvey Weinstein | Lachlan Murdoch (son of Rupert Murdoch) | Jeffrey Immelt | Jacklyn Bezos (wife of Jeff) | Jeff Zucker | Emma Bloomberg (oldest daughter of Michael) | Larry Fink. Veterans Advisory Board: Adm. Michael Mullen | Jon Stewart [since at least 2013]. Prize Advisory Board: Casey Wasserman. Annual gala: Oprah Winfrey. Financier(s): George Soros ($50 million pledge at the 2009 gala; Democrat fundraising ally of RHF founder and employed Druckenmiller)	1988
Human Potential Foundation (HPF) C. B. Scott Jones (president; six year special assistant to Sen. Pell) | Claiborne Pell | Laurance Rockefeller (financier to the tune of $700,000) | Hans Adam II von Liechtenstein | John Mack (abduction researcher who received $200,000 from HPF). Helped finance the Center for Treatment and Research of Experienced Anomalous Trauma (TREAT) conferences on abductions and other paranormal phenomena. Rima Laibow (founder and organizer; psychiatrist; later wife of Army Intelligence Gen. Albert Stubblebine; both major disinformers) | Victoria Lacas (abduction researcher married to Col. John Alexander, a friend of Stubblebine and Hans Adam) | Budd Hopkins (close friend of Hans Adam; both tried to find out details of the alleged alien kidnapping of UN secretary general Javier Perez de Cuellar) | Lyn Buchanan (remote viewer). Laurance R. financed John Mack's 1993 Program for Extraordinary Experience Research (PEER), an alien abductee support group which laid the groundwork for Mack's 1994 best-selling book 'Abduction: Human Encounters with Aliens'. Allegedly provided Mack with $250,000 annually in the early 1990s. Colin Andrews: The premier British crop circle researcher (and certainly in recent years a believer in a global warming armageddon) was financed by Laurance R. in the late	1989

1990s. Already in 1992 Greer accompanied Andrews, doing meditation experiments. 1995 HPF conference: John Mack | Zecharia Sitchin (According to Richard Hoagland on Coast to Coast AM, I believe with Sitchin critic Mike Heiser, Sitchin had an office at Rockefeller Plaza. Hoagland was discussing his/their experiences with Sitchin.)
Intruders Foundation Budd Hopkins (founder and executive director) | Hans Adam II von Liechtenstein (financier). Advisory committee: Edward H. Davis, Jr. (psychologist; applied behavior specialist with autistic children) | Carol Rainey (documentary producer) | Peter Robbins (UFO researcher) | Greg Sandow (journalist who writes about UFOs) | Jed Turnbull (psychiatrist with a MA from Fordham) | Oliver von Kemenczky (global account manager Honeywell Corp.) | Dennis K. Anderson (media consultant) | Cathy Del Grosso (forensic psychologist) | Sal Amendola (comic book artist with DC Comics) 1992: Intruders movie. Running time: 2 hours and 40 minutes. Budd Hopkins is played by Richard Crenna. Several reasonable well known actors appear in this very television movie. June 13-17, 1992: MIT Abduction Study Conference: Hans Adam and Robert Bigelow (financiers) | Dr. David Pritchard (chair). Participants: John Mack | David Jacobs | Budd Hopkins | Thomas Bullard | John Carpenter | David Gotlib | Richard Hall | Pam Kasey | Joe Nyman | Mark Rodeghier | Walter Webb. Produced a 700 page book on the subject.	1989
Arlington Institute John L. Petersen (founder and chair) | Woolsey (director) | Napier Collyns (director; Shell) | Joe Firmage (director; UFO cultist) | Catherine Austin Fitts (black budget critic; invited to a meeting she said was in part about aliens living among us) | linked to Coast to Coast AM show and Steven Greer (UFOs). Hal Puthoff (speech)	1989
Psi-Tech Corporation Ed Dames (founder) | "four-star general" (founder) | 1-star General Albert Stubblebine (first chairman) | Colonel John Alexander (consulting director) | Ingo Swann (consultant) | Jim Schnabel (trained here) | Colin Andrews (trained here)|Robert Wood (reported co-founder) | Ryan Wood (sales executive)	1989
Fund for UFO Research Roswell conference, Washington, D.C. Held at the Smithsonian. Heads of FUFOR: Don Berliner and Bruce Maccabee. Financiers of the conference: Hans Adam II von Liechtenstein and Robert Bigelow. Brought together numerous witnesses of the 1947 Roswell crash. Interviews with the witnesses leads to the video 'Recollections of Roswell', which appears to be good for the most part - except for the questionable San Agustin crash witnesses. Bigelow was involved in financing part of the research into that aspect of the crash, as a picture can be seen in Stanton Friedman's book 'Crash at Corona' of Bigelow and Friedman looking out over the San Agustin plains.	1990
International Institute for Sustainable Development (IISD) Maurice Strong (long-time distinguished fellow)	1990
Turner Foundation Same group of family members as the Captain Planet Foundation.	1990
Captain Planet Foundation Based on the cartoon 'Captain Planet and the Planeteers' of 1990-1996, co-developed by Ted Turner. The foundation had some challenging periods, but was relaunched at Earth Day Kids Fest in 2003. Directors: Laura Turner Seydel (president and chair; daughter of Ted from his first wife, who married Rutherford Seydel, a son of Ted's employee Pat Mitchell Seydel) | Rutherford Seydel (secretary) | Beau Turner (married into the Hunt family of Dallas) | Rhett Turner | Teddy Turner.	1991
Goldsmith Foundation Sir James Goldsmith and brother Edward Goldsmith (co-founders). Sir James was deeply involved with the UK Independence Party (UKIP), ultra-right MI6-connected activists and covert SAS operations while Edward has been one of the chief green agenda promoters. Beneficiaries: Brian Crozier.	1991

International Academy of the Environment, Geneva Bohdan Hawrylyshyn (director 1996-1997) | Maurice Strong (Head of four "outside experts" assisting the Swiss Science Council in 1995 in evaluating the academy's work).	1991-1999
International Foreign Policy Institute (IFPI) Co-founders: James Garrison | Eduard Shevardnadze | George Shultz	1991
UNCED's Rio Earth Summit Participants: Maurice Strong | Mikhail Gorbachev | Ruud Lubbers | Queen Beatrix of Orange | John Kerry and Teresa Heinz (met a second time here, the first time at a 1990 Earth Day rally; got married in '95) | Richard Gardner ("UN special advisor" at the conference; 1992, 'Negotiating Survival: Four Priorities After Rio', p. 1: "the Rio Earth Summit has launched the world into a new era of eco-diplomacy, eco-negotiation and eco-lawmaking. It was the largest international conference ever held, with over 100 heads of state... 8,000 delegates, 9,000 members of the press, and 3,000 accredited representatives of ... NGOs.") | Christopher Flavin (participant). More: 1991, TC publication, 'Beyond Interdependence: The Meshing of the World's Economy and the Earth's Ecology' - the foreword written by David Rockefeller and the intro by Maurice Strong - suggested that "the 1992 Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro would likely be the last chance this century for leaders and decision-makers to seriously address and arrest the accelerating environmental threats to economic development, national security, and human survival."	1992
World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD) Founded in the wake of the Rio Earth Summit. Executive committee (often hard to find on the site): Dr. Stephan Schmidheiny (founder; hon. chair anno 2001, 2012) | Christopher Flavin (founding director) | Bertrand Collomb (chair 2004-2005) | Gerard Worms ("ex-officio" anno 2012) | Paul Polman (co-vice chair anno 2011, chair anno 2015) | Peter Bakker (president since 2012) Advisory council (little known about it): Maurice Strong (founder). *wbcsd.org/memlist.htm (accessed: Oct. 18, 2000; companies largely remain the same over the decades): "List of Members: ... 3M ... Earth Council Alliance (ECA) Founding members: Maurice Strong (founding chair) | Ruud Lubbers | Robert McNamara | Javier Perez de Cuellar | Desmond Tutu | Princess Basma bint Talal of Jordan | Jonathan Lash.	1992
Gorbachev Foundation/USA James Garrison (founder and president) | Paul Dietrich (founding trustee) | Sen. Alan Cranston (trustee chair) | George Shultz (advisory board chair) | Victor Kuvaldin (founding executive Russian branch; still in place anno 2015; former speechwriter for Gorbachev). Organized the State of the World Forums.	1992
Green Cross International (GCI) Members: Mikhail Gorbachev (founding president) | Shimon Peres | Ruud Lubbers | Javier Perez de Cuellar | Ted Turner | Princess Basma bint Talal of Jordan | Robert Redford.	1993

U.S. branch is Global Green. Board: Scott Seydel (chair 2004-2013; Turner family member) | Pat Mitchell Seydel (director; Turner family member) | Ambassador Richard Butler (chair and CEO UNSCOM) | Gary Hart (since at least 2001-2004; later advisory board member) | Lee Hamilton (since at least 2001-2015) | Wyche Fowler (2002-2000s) | Leonardo DiCaprio (mid 2006 - early 2014) | Edward Norton (mid 2006 - mid 2014) | Lisa Shields | Trammall S. Crow (co-chair; son of the new age oil man). Advisory board: Jane Goodall | Norman Lear.
Center for Media and Democracy (CMD) John Stauber (founder; ran into until 2008) | Lisa Graves (executive director). Supported by the Ford Fdn., Open Society Inst. (George Soros), Rockefeller Assoc., Rockefeller Family Fdn., Threshold Foundation, Tides Fdn., Ted Turner Fdn. More than 50% of CMD's financing comes through the Schwab Charitable Fund, which preserves the anonimity of donors. Publishes: - PR Watch. - SourceWatch. - BanksterUSA: $200,000 from the Open Society Institute. - ALECExposed: American Legislative Exchange Council.	1993
Heffter Research Institute Psychedelics research. Co-founders: Ralph Metzner | Dennis McKenna. Financiers: Laurance Rockefeller | Bob Wallace (Microsoft; old Bill G. friend)	1993
Global Witness Advisory board: Alexander Soros (founder) | Bennett Freeman (chair) | Baroness Glenys Kinnock (wife of the Labour Party leader 1983-1992; ECFR) | Edward Zwick | Misha Glenny | Silas Siakor | Princess Mabel Wisse Smit of Orange. Financiers: Open Society Fdns. | Alexander Fdn., MacArthur Fdn, Ford Fdn., National Endowment for Democracy, Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.	1993
Rockefeller Initiative on UFO disclosure Laurance Rockefeller (prime mover). White House: Bill Clinton (on April 14, 1993 Laurance meets Clinton at the White House over the issue) | Jack Gibbons (White House scientist briefed by Rockefeller and C. B. Scott Jones on the subject) | John Podesta (Clinton's assistant and later chief of staff; spoke out publicly in favor of disclosure) | Webster Hubbell (Clinton's associate attorney general; looked into UFOs and JFK, but got nothing). Round table discussion at the JY Ranch: representatives from Gibbons office | Richard Farley | Laurance Rockefeller | Henry Diamond | C. B. Scott Jones | John Mack | Dr. Bruce Maccabee | Leo Sprinkle | Linda Moulton Howe | Steven Greer | Keith Thompson. Bill and Hillary Clinton were also been guests of Laurance at the ranch. Eventually Laurance Rockefeller and the president back off, apparently fearing repurcussions. The only thing published is 'UFO's: The Best Available Evidence', at different times funded by Laurance Rockefeller, Robert Bigelow and Joe Firmage.	1993-1996
Disclosure Project Dr. Steven Greer (founder and CEO) | Daniel Sheehan (long-time lawyer to the project and witness) | Laurance Rockefeller (limited financial supporter) | Mary and Evan Galbraith (cooperated with Greer for some time in the 1990s in writing 'UFO's: The Best Available Evidence' - until they had a falling out). Examples of witnesses used: - Dr. Fred Bell (listed as "Dr. B.". Not mentioned: new age guru, Pleiadean contactee who believes in reptilians, that Greys eat humans dissolved in acid, that no plane hit the WTC and that 2012 was going to be the end of the world) - Jim Dilettoso (identity kept hidden, but reported as being reliable. Not mentioned: murky past and known UFO cultist. George A. Hormel II, owner of the Wrigley Mansion, invested in Dilettoso's projects.) - James Angleton, Jr. (Greer has hinted that this person gave him information. Not mentioned: Reportedly no relationship to the CI chief. However, he is an AFIO leader with the nation's CIA covert operations establishment - with people who would	1993 absolute have no interest in releasing classified information) - Sergeant Robert O. Dean, backed by L. Rockefeller and Claiborne Pell in Congress in 1996, became an important Disclosure Project witness (talking about "ACIO" and 20-something levels about top secret), but these days talks about Annunaki and reptilians to anyone who wants to hear it. In addition, an interested and moderate NATO historian rationally debunked papers he provided as being fake. - Gordon Creighton and Lord Admiral Hill-Norton are presented as reliable. In fact, both have viewed the abduction subject as being done by demons. Already in the 1970s Creighton was warning that people "have been carried off and ... certainly haven't come back again." Already back then Creighton promoted an author who in turn inspired Erich von Daniken. Without naming their names directly, Greer has claimed that General Albert Stubblebine and Colonel John Alexander have tried to recruit him into a cell that has infiltrated the civilian UFO community. Those who watched the Hans Adam-financed movie 'Intruders' can see that the same thing happened to Budd Hopkins (by an actor who plays a general who looks like the twin brother of Gen. Stubblebine). Mentioned by Greer as not having any inside knowledge: 1) General Patrick Hughes, DIA director 1996-1999, who has a major special operations background but is far from an elitist. 2) Adm. Thomas R. Wilson, J-2 intelligence chief for the joined chiefs and DIA head 1999-2002. Mentioned by Greer as having inside knowledge on the subject (true or not, he spoke to these people or persons close to them): George Shultz | the Bechtel family | David Rockefeller | Peter Peterson | Maxwell Rabb | Claiborne Pell | the Rothschild family | Pehr Gyllenhammar (indirect, but controlled Volvo until the early 1990s) | Hans Adam | Adm. Harry Train | Adm. Bobby Ray Inman. Also: Dick Cheney and Donald Rumsfeld (warned against their re-election in 2004 and that these individuals have direct knowledge of these topics - then again, Greer is politically hundred percent in line with men as Al Gore and Maurice Strong). Interesting observation: Greer most definitely had a dinner party in 1993 with then-sitting CIA director James Woolsey (who was never allowed to meet president Clinton one-on-one) and John Petersen and their wives on the subject. The participants in the dinner disagree, however, with Greer's account of it. Greer claimed the CIA director was almost in tears that he wasn't told anything about the subject. The other participants, claim, however, that they were just politely listening to his views, but did not necessarily believe in them. Strangely, James W. has incredibly deep ties to the defense industry, the liberal and conservative establishment, and the Navy at the highest levels. If he doesn't know anything about the subject, then pretty much no one does.

Honorary members: Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands | Gorbachev.*	1998
International Space Sciences Organisation (ISSO) Joe Firmage's UFO cult website. Starts promoting the idea that human technological progress has been spurred on occasion by alien technology, as with Roswell. Through his website he releases the MJ-12 documents, including clearly faked ones of Tim Cooper. Dr. Robert and Ryan Wood are the ones who verify the documents for him. Daniel Sheehan is general counsel to ISSO. 9th Annual International UFO Congress Convention, held on March 5-11, 2000: Sheehan and Firmage are speakers at the meeting. Dr. Robert and Ryan Wood give a presentation. They are aske how much Firmage has paid them for their research, a question they refuse to answer. To this day they maintain the most prominent website on the MJ-12 documents. Obvious fakes are still listed with a 3 out of 5 star rating.	1998
Independent Media Institute / AlterNet *Don Hazer (founder, executive editor, former Mother Jones publisher). Allied with Salon, The Guardian, Truthdig, Truthout, TomDispatch, The Washington Spectator, Al Jazeera English, Center for Public Integrity, Democracy Now!, Waging Nonviolence, Asia Times, New America Media and Mother Jones. Highlands Group / Highlands Forum An unofficial meeting group initially founded to be the "Pentagon's 'ideas lab'", consisting of "key DOD, industry, and academic IO [Information Operations] experts ... to coordinate IO across federal military intelligence agencies." In 1998, on the advice of lawyers, the Highlands Group was renamed the Highlands Forum "and moved into the private sector to manage it as a consultant to the Pentagon." The operator of the Forum became the intellectual capital venture firm Highlands Group Inc. The reason for these changes was that the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA, or 'open government' law) forbids U.S. government officials from holding closed-door meetings or have secret consultations with persons from outside the government (big business, big business-funded think tanks) to prevent private interests from shaping government policy. *Leadership: William Perry (the sec. of defense who appointed Captain O'Neill to head initial group; founding director In-Q-Tel 1999-) | Captain Richard Patrick "Dick" O'Neill (founding president) | Andrew "Andy" Marshall (co-chair anno 2001; attended from the beginning; held in high esteem; nicknamed "Yoda"; head of the DOD's Office of Net Assessment (ONA); VP Dick C., Donald R. and Paul W. were considered among his proteges) | Anthony J. Permanent Industrial Expositions (Permindex) Company seems a logical expansion on Shaw's international trade activities. Permindex's Italian branch was Centro Mondiale Commerciale (CMC), which had similar or close to similar officers. Company registered in Switzerland. Directors (from newspapers at the time of the CMC scandal): Louis Bloomfield (president, from Canada) | Giorgio Mantello | Prince Guitere de Spadaforo | Dr. Enrico Mantello | Clay Shaw (director since 1958) | Ferenc Nagy. From a less reliable source (a 1982 court document of JFK researchers) added these names: Jean de Menil (Schlumberger) | Paul Raigorodsky. Larouche in Dope, Inc. stated they had done the sensible thing of getting the 1958 Swiss incorporation papers of Permindex. They named all these men, as well as: Roy Cohn | Joseph Bonanno | Hans Seligman | Carlo d'Amelio | Max Hageman | Munir Chourbagi | Giuseppe Zigotti | Ferenc H. Simonfay. Incredible that after 50 years we still don't have photocopy proof of who the directors of this company were.	1958
Crusade for Freedom, Texas Raised money for anti-Castro Cubans. Neil Mallon (contact and recruiter for CIA director Allen Dulles) | Paul Raigorodsky | Earle Cabell | Clint Murchison, Sr. | H. L. Hunt | D. Harold Byrd | MacNaughton | Everette DeGolyer | Ted Dealey (publisher Dallas Morning News) | Fred Florence (head CIA-linked bank) Crusade for Freedom (1950): Raised money for Radio Free Europe and the like. Dwight Eisenhower (co-founder) | Allen Dulles (co-founder) | Herbert Lehman (co-founder) | Gen. Lucius Clay (founding chair 1950-1952; executive after) | Henry Ford II (elected chair on Aug. 5, 1952) | Frederick Osborn (NYC chair).	1950s

established Lee Harvey Oswald's credentials as communist during a live debate on radio three months before the assassination) | Alton Ochsner (chair) | Alberto Fowler (IAMO; Cuban exile; said he was stalking and annoying JFK the weekend before his death) | George Albertini (member Otto von Habsburg's Cercle group) | Patrick Frawley (ASC financier) | C. C. Too. Undated document: Wallace M. Davis (vice president for financial affairs). Additionally named as directors in a 1968 New Orleans States Item article: Captain J. W. Clark | Eberhard Deutsch (Jim Garrison's mentor and law partner) | J. D. Grey | Darwin Fenner (accused of child abuse with many unmentioned friends) | H. Eustis Reily (employed Oswald) | William E. Robertson | Cecil Shilstone | C. C. Walther (IH) | C. C. Clifton, Jr. | Dr. John Ochsner (son of). Other reported members/financiers: Joseph Montgomery | Murchison family | Nelson Rockefeller (speech, according to William Gaudet) | Dr. Mary Sherman (minor financier).
Truth and Consequences Joseph Rault, Jr. (primary organizer; son of International House director and Ochsner friend) | Willard E. Robertson (co-founder and chair; INCA director) | Cecil Shilstone (co-founder; INCA director). Known financial contributor: Eberhard Deutsch (law partner of Jim Garrison, his political mentor and INCA director). Committee of New Orleans businessman that decided to privately finance the investigation of Jim Garrison into the JFK assassination, with a primary focus on Clay Shaw -- instead of Shaw's superiors, who were some of the persons financing the investigation. Joseph Rault, Jr. Rault quoted in the National Observer, 'The Kennedy Case', of Feb. 26, 1967: > "We are prepared to back Jim Garrison all the way. It can be a year--or five years if necessary--and we will provide whatever he needs. No questions asked." Jim Garrison was inspired to investigate JFK after conversations with his friends Joseph Rault, Jr. and Senator Russell Long on a plane trip to a conference of the American Petroleum Institute. Estimates of how much the group raised range from $30,000 to $100,000.	1967

Conservative establishment: rising "military-industrial complex" (McCarthyite)

Based on the directorships of friends and aides of Gen. Douglas MacArthur: Gen. Bonner Fellers, Gen. George Stratemeyer, Gen. Pedro del Valle, Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, Gen. Charles Willoughby, as well as the financiers of MacArthur's campaign in 1952: Gen. Robert E. Wood (his wealthy campaign manager), H.L. Hunt, Nelson Bunker Hunt, and reportedly Clint Murchison, Sr. (a close supporter in any case).

Sovereign Order of St. John of Jerusalem (early Shickshinny Knights) Charles Pichel (Nazi and apparent sadistic sexual abuser who maintained ties with the White Russian community). Counted the involvement of families as Habsburg, Thurn und Taxis, Wittelsbach, Windisch-Graetsch and Radziwill.	1908
America First Committee Wood | Regnery | Wedemeyer | Ford	1940
Hotel del Charro Clint Murchison | Sid Richardson | J. Edgar Hoover | Clyde Tolson | McCarthy	1951

Shickshinny Knights of Malta Charles Pichel. Eugene Tabbutt (KKK). Military advisory committee: Willoughby / Del Valle / Wedemeyer / Stratemeyer / Fellers.	1957
Americans for Constitutional Action Moreell / Fellers / Wood	1958
Liberty Lobby Founding members advisory council: Willis Carto / Gen. Pero Del Valle / Gen. George Stratemeyer / Taylor Caldwell. Also: General Alfred Wedemeyer (at the very least lots of correspondence with the lobby in the early years) / Mark Lane (attorney to the Lobby, including to Victor Marchetti, since the 1980s and speaker at its conventions) / Col. L. Fletcher Prouty (member of the Lobby's populist action committee; his book 'The Secret Team' was published by Noontide Press, which belongs to the Lobby; special operations expert for the Joint Chiefs under JFK). Zionist Watch, set up in 1987 by the lobby. Mark Lane (basically CIA) and Victor Marchetti (CIA) were the original editors. Lawyer for the lobby who supposedly took over its assets in 1993. Lane was a JFK investigator and lawyer for the Jonestown Cult, just before the massacre began. Earlier he had been the same to Martin Luther King and JFK investigator Jim Garrison. Lane is one of the most prominent authors on the JFK case. Spotlight and American Free Press are anti-Jewish and anti-black (thus, Nazi) conspiracy-oriented publications of the Lobby. July 2008, AFP staff: James Tucker (national editor; anti-BB) / Michael Piper Collins (national corresponding editor) / Willes Carto (national correspondent) / Ted Gunderson (co-editor Southwest regional bureau; employee ultra-right CIA-linked Murchison family) / Anthony Hilder (anti-BB, Illuminati, etc.) and Rev. Ted Pike (co-editors regional bureau West). Speakers at the 2006 American Free Press-Barnes Review International Conference in Washington: Dave Von Kleist (major 9/11 disinformer) / Collins Piper / Doug Rokke (anti-depleted uranium activist) / Colonel Donn de Grand Pre (9/11 disinformer) / Victor Thorn and Lisa Guliani (Wing-TV 9/11 disinformers) / Ellen Mariani / William Rodriguez (major 9/11 disinformer; reversed 9/11 testimony, claiming all of sudden a bomb went off in the basement of the WTC) / Lindsey Williams (abiotic oil/peak oil disinformer) / Eustace Mullins (protege of the Nazi poet Ezra Pound and H.L. Hunt; major anti-NWO author) / Ted Gunderson (disinformer on chemtrails, child abuse and everything else) / Willis Carto (Nazi) / Texe Marrs (religious extremist Illuminati believer and extremely anti-Jewish) / Mark Lane. Lyndon Larouche: allied with Willis Carto and the Liberty Lobby 1974-1979, until Carto became involved in holocaust denial. Was more socialist thinking, however, and also always maintained ties with the Soviet Union, as well persons in the U.S. government. By far the most knowledgeable conspiracy group ever, but very manipulative, radical and holds a lot of info and sources back. Institute for Historical Review (IHR), founded by Carto in 1978, was part of the Lobby. It tries to provide "science" that the holocaust never happened or had very limited impact. Has become the leading group for holocaust denial/revisionism. Principals: David Duke / David Irving / Mark Weber. Jeff Rense website and radio program, founded in the 1990s, is today's most prominent continuation of Liberty Lobby Nazi-inspired conspiratorial thinking. Terry Arnold (columnist at Rense since 2002; associate of Neil Livingstone and his CIA/Pentagon group) / Paul Craig Roberts (columnist since 2010) / Webster Tarpley (columnist; Larouche background) / William Engdahl (columnist; Larouche background) / David	1958

Duke (long-time columnist; KKK and Nazi background) | David Irving (long-time columnist; IHR Nazi) | Mark Weber (long-time columnist; IHR Nazi).
John Birch Society Primary publication has been the New American, which attacks BB, the TC, the CFR and does not distinguish between liberalism, communism and socialism. Early(McCarthyite) board members: Robert Welch | Nelson Bunker Hunt | Gen. Albert Wedemeyer | Gen. Charles Stone | Clarence Manion | Adolphe Menjou | Larry MacDonald | Harry Bradley | Fred Koch | Spruille Braden | Edward Butler (ordinary member). Also: Gary Allen (famous author on the CFR and TC; speech writer for George Wallace and advisor to Nelson Bunker Hunt) | William Jasper (prominent editor The New American) | Ron Paul and Father Nicholas Gruner (supporters who were in JBS documentary 'United Nations: Global tyranny, step by step') | Malachi Martin (interviewed in 1997 and major critic of the Rockefeller, Ford and Carnegie Fdns.) | John McManus (protege of Welch since 1966 at the JBS and president since 1991). The Alex Jones Show is largely a modern spin-off of the JBS with an additional focus on modern conspiracy. On March 23, 2009, John McManus stopped by at Jones HQ, where Jones stated on air: > "I've had you on a few times over the phone, but Mr. McManus, it's great to meet you in person and I appreciate your tireless work for the John Birch Society over the last 40 years. Boy, I'll tell you, everything you guys have talked about has unfortunately come true." Some of Alex Jones guests from the JBS and CNP: Phyllis Schlafly | G. Edward Griffin | Stanley Monteith | William Jasper | Dr. Michael Coffman (also in Jones' Endgame movie) | Gina Parker Ford (in Endgame) | Joel Skousen (son of Cleon Skousen, also of the ASC) | Jerome Corsi (close to JBS leadership and a propagandist against Kerry and Obama who pushed for war with Iran) | Paul Craig Roberts | Ron Paul (about the only dovish but fervant JBS backer). Also: James Tucker (until his death Jones' BB expert). Other guests: Ted Gunderson of the Liberty Lobby and John De Camp (cooperated in apparently limiting the fall-out of the Franklin child abuse scandal and in Oklahoma). Statements of Alex Jones on his show. On August 31, 2010: > "There's a left-wing CFR-funded conspiracy theory that says some group called the CNP runs everything [bored expression]. It's a total diversion, but we'll talk about it from the other side." On July 1, 2011, while being confronted with a guest who is just as right-wing as the CNP, but frustrated by its lack of what appears to be political compromise: > "She brought up the, uh, [thinking hard] CNP, which I haven't done a lot of research on. People have asked me about it, so I have done some. They, reportedly, the Hunt brothers set it up and things. And she was saying that that was not a real organization, or that that isn't a conservative group trying to take America back, or fight the New World Order, as they claim. ... Is the whole CNP bad? There have also been a lot of people who have been in the CNP, like a Paul Craig Roberts - he's grown, he's learned things. I've talked to him about it and he says it's just basically ineffectual." [starts to agree that neocons may be controlling the CNP] At least in 2011 Alex Jones received his "pocket constitution" flyers from the Heritage Foundation, which he sent to people who purchased items from his website. Considering the Heritage Foundation is the main U.S. arm of the secretive CIA, MI6 and Opus Dei-ran Cercle group, that explains why Jones all of sudden withdrew all support for ISGP when it began to focus on the right-wing of the spectrum in late 2006, starting with a massive article on Le Cercle, in which the Heritage Foundation, the CNP and the JBS were also put under the magnifying glass. Before, while writing much less detailed articles about the liberal establishment and globalization, there hadn't been any issues.	1958

University of Chicago Founded by John D. Rockefeller, Sr., as his first major philanthropic project. Not a major globalist presence on the board of trustees, far from it, but important because this has been the home of the ultraright neoliberal "Chicago School" of economics that opposed any kind of "corporate responsibility". Trustees: Paul Hoffman (anno 1950) / Marshall Field III (anno 1950) / Walter Paepcke (anno 1950) / David Rockefeller (1947-1963, hon. trustee 1963-1966, life trustee 1966-2007; earlier received his Ph.D. here) / John D. Rockefeller IV / Jay Rockefeller (1967-, still anno 1978) / William McCormick Blair ("recently elected" in 1932, "on June 8, 1933, the following Trustees were re-elected..." in 1933, anno 1950, life trustee anno 1978; Yale S&B; a cousin married John D. Rockefeller's daughter Edith) / Edward McCormick Blair (trustee anno 1978; son of William) / David M. Kennedy (anno 1978) / Peter Peterson (anno 1978) / Jay A. Pritzker (anno 1978). *More: Robert Hutchins (president 1929–45, chancellor 1945–51) / Prof. Milton Friedman (1946-) / George Shultz (professor of industrial relations 1957-; dean Chicago Graduate School of Business dean 1962-1968; heavily tutored by Stigler and especially Friedman) / Prof. George Stigler (1958-; earlier graduated here) / D. H. Smith Richardson Foundation Elite conservative foundation that financed the 1955-founded National Military-Industrial Conferences, out of which the term Military-Industrial Complex grew. By the late 1970s it became known as a "neocon" foundation - although it also heavily finances "Eastern Establishment" think tanks as the CFR and TC, and even "lib CIA" projects on occasion. The foundation as been accused for a long time of being close to the CIA. The entire Richardson clan has been involved in it generation after generation (individual members not listed here), always supplemented with a handful of right-wing CFR elites. The foundation runs the Center for Creative Leadership (CCL) in North Carolina. Anno 2017 Peter L. Richardson, president of the foundation, is a governor and trustee chairman of the CCL, which counts admirals and generals on its board sitting next to a variety of civilian leaders. Reportedly the center is deeply tied to the CIA and military top. Co-founders and random officers: Eugene Stetson, Jr. (co-founder; son of an elite Morgan banker; H. Smith Richardson's son-in-law) / Frank Barnett (vice president and director of research 1955-1962) / Leslie Lenkowsky (director of research early 1980s) / Devon Gaffney Cross (director of research mid 1980s, anno '94) / Roger Kaplan (program officer). Governors: Bill Stetson (anno '94-'22; son of Eugene Jr. and Grace Stuart Richardson, a daughter of H. Smith Richardson, Sr.; married a granddaughter of IBM founder Thomas Watson; into global warming activism) / Donald Kagan (anno '94) / James Q. Wilson (anno '94) / Gen. Taylor (anno '18-'22) / Karen Elliott House (anno '20-'22).	1935
Achelis and Bodman Foundation Merger of the 1940-founded Achelis Foundation and 1945-founded Bodman Foundation. In 1969 the Bodman foundation financed the UN's Temple of Understanding. Endowment of about $38 million in modern times. Decidedly neocon in its "Public Policy" financing. Guy Rutherfurd, the lawyer of both the Achelis and Bodman families forged the friendship between the two families and chaired the board of both foundations at some point. In the early 2000s, after half a decade of service to the foundations, he was made honorary chairman. He was a grandson of Levi Morton. Board 2017: John Irwin III (executive chair) / Russell Pennoyer (president anno 2017;	1940, 1945, but only formally merged in 2015 already pre-2003) | Peter Frelinghuysen | Mary Phipps (trustee emeritus). Trustees 1987-2003 (at the very least) Bodman / Achelis Fdns.: Walter Curley Jr. | Peter Frelinghuysen | John Irwin II | Anthony Drexel Duke | Mary Phipps | Leslie Lenkowsky (resigned in late 2001) | Mary B. Braga (apparently widow of Virginia sugar baron B. Rionda Braga; resigned in 2002).

Sarah Mellon Scaife Foundation / Sarah Scaife Foundation (later on turned conservative and was CIA-linked) Trustees in 2001: Richard Mellon Scaife (chair) | Bill Bennett (Reagan's education secretary and Bush 41's drug czar) | Allan Meltzer | Kenneth Cribb Jr. (Reagan advisor; CNP president) | Ed Feulner | Michael Gleba (exec. vice president) | Daniel McMichael | Roger Robinson Jr. (former personal assistant to David Rockefeller at Chase)	1941
Lynde and Harry Bradley Foundation Milwaukee-based. In 1985 the foundation's asset increased from $14 million to $290 million, making it a major conservative donor source. Harry Bradley (founder) | David Uihlein Jr. (grandson of H. Bradley; director 1970s - 2006, vice chair 2006-) | David and Charles Koch. 1988 board: Andrew Rader (president 1970s; chair until 1982, and 1985-2000, director 2000-2003) | Michael Joyce (president 1985-2001) | George Stigler (University of Chicago "Chicago School" economist) | Clayburn LaForce Jr. (UCLA business management dean). William Kristol (director in 1993). More: Allen Taylor (long-time director, chair 2000-2002; Princeton and Yale-educated) | Michael Grebe (president and CEO 2002-2016) | Dusty Rhodes (director 1990s-2000s, chair later on; M. Decter classmate at Wharton; Goldman Sachs partner 1986-1992; president National Review) | Frank Shakespeare (director)	1942
Freedoms Foundation Kenneth Wells (co-founder; executive vice president 1949-1951; president 1951-1970) | Gen. Dwight Eisenhower (chair) | John Fisher (board of visitors 1964-1965) | Adm. Felix Stump (vice chair) | Gen. Edwin Black (executive vice president 1970-1971) | Patrick Frawley (trustee) | Henry Hazlitt (repeatedly honored) | Henry Regnery (involved in publications) | Richard Mellon Scaife (financier with Olin Fdn. and others)	1949
Council Against Communist Aggression (CACA) / Council for the Defense of Freedom (CDF) since 1980 Marx Lewis (chair 1980s) | Reed Irvine (director) | Murray Baron | Wilson Lucom Bernard Yoh | James Tyson (president). 1969 founded Accuracy in Media (AIM) was located at CACA and shared many board members: Reed Irvine (founder and chair until his death in 2004) | Don Irvine (follow up of Reed as chair) | Roger Aronoff (editor and executive secretary | Deborah Lambert (fund raiser) | Marx Lewis (advisory board 1980s) and others above. National advisory board anno 2000: Midge Decter | Adm. Thomas Moorer | Adm. William Mott (died in 1997, so not updated) | Dr. Frederick Seitz | Dr. Edward Teller | James Tyson. In the late 1990s, Joseph Goulden of AIM went on the air to counter the charges of journalist Gary Webb and DEA agent Mike Levine of CIA drug trafficking that led to the crack-cocaine epidemic. 1985-founded Accuracy in Academia (AIA): Spin-off of AIM and controlled by the same people. Reed Irvine (founder and chair until his death in 2004) | Don Irvine (follow up of Reed as chair) | Deborah Lambert (fund raiser)	1951
John M. Olin Foundation Considered conservative, but also very much liberal elite-linked. John Olin | William Simon (president 1977-1979 and again in the 1980s and 1990s) | John McCloy (trustee 1970s until his death in 1989) | John Hanes (trustee 1970s) | Michael Joyce (executive vice president 1979-1985) | George J. Gillespie III (secretary and treasurer, 1980s; partner Cravath, Swaine & Moore since 1963; director William S. Paley Foundation; President Pinkerton Foundation; close friend Warren Buffett) | Charles Horn | Peter Flanigan (trustee; Anheuser Busch family member).	1952-2005
Koch Family Foundations Various foundations. Supports conservative, but also liberal establishment think tanks.	1953
Moonie Cult (freed by MacArthur, later backed by two MacArthur-freed yakuza leaders); Edward Heath (gave speeches) | Alexander Haig (gave speeches)	1954

Team B Created in 1975 after various members of the PFIAB early that year started wondering if the CIA's intelligence estimates on the Soviet Union in terms of military build up weren't structurally underestimated to keep Henry K.'s Detente and nuclear arms control negotiations America's dominant foreign policy with regard to the Soviet Union. This was an unpopular opinion, especially with Henry K. still as secretary of state and then with the subsequent Democrat Jimmy C. administration. Jimmy C. actually ended up dismantling the PFIAB over it in May 1977, with Team B also hounded in the press. Team B's conclusions though, that the Soviet Union did not fully ascribe to Mutually Assured Destruction (MAD) as a given (as Henry K. and his followers did) and was looking for ways to make a nuclear war winnable, all the while largely using disarmament	1975-1976

negotiations to secretly reach nuclear parity with the U.S., weren't all that far-fetched. That view also became the dominant one during the 1980s. Despite that Team B certainly made good points, it is also clear that the group largely involved a group of right-wing radicals - with the truth likely either somewhere in between or simply based how much of an economic powerhouse the Soviet Union would be able to become. Creators: Albert Wohlstetter (published work in 1974 making the case that the CIA had structurally underestimated Soviet military power, which led to questions by the PFAIB; reportedly also helped set up the Team B effort more directly) | George H. W. Bush (approved its creation as CIA director) | John Paisley (CIA liaison) | Richard Pipes (chair of the B Team) | Richard B. Foster (from SRI who employed Richard in 1973-1974 for conducting studies on Soviet foreign policy) | Richard Perle (Richard P. picked Paul W. for his team, because this person "recommended him so highly".). Members (picked by Richard from a list of potential experts compiled by the CIA): General John Vogt, Jr. (recently retired commander of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe) | Gen. Jasper A. Welch, Jr. (missile expert). Members (proposed by Richard and approved by the CIA): Paul Nitze (Richard had seen him on TV, thought he was "so good", but hadn't met him before) | Gen. Daniel Graham | William van Cleave | Paul Wolfowitz | Foy Kohler (ex-ambassador to Moscow) | Thomas Wolfe (from RAND) | Seymour Weiss (recently retired director of the Bureau of Political and Military Affairs at State). Three names were rejected by the CIA: two for not having the proper security clearances, and another one whose reasons for rejection were not explained. Source(s): Oct. 1987, Richard P. for Commentary Magazine, 'Team B: The Reality Behind the Myth'; 1998, Anne Cahn, 'Killing Detente'.

2001 annual report, pp. 10-17: "ALBANIA: IRI provided technical assistance to Albania's parliament to help increase its transparency, public accountability, and capacity to develop legislation. The Institute trained parliamentary staff...
BULGERIA: IRI assisted Bulgaria's main political parties in developing their campaigns for the June 2001 parliamentary elections. IRI also trained candidates and campaign managers in grassroots organization. IRI launched a voter education Web site, www.daglasuvame.org ("let's vote"), targeted at youth. ... Following the parliamentary elections, IRI conducted a series of polls and focus groups... IRI trained local party leaders in party organization, internal communications and youth organization. For the [anti-communist alliance] Union of Democratic Forces (UDF) [headed by the heavily pro-NATO 1997-2001 Bulgarian PM Ivan Kostov], IRI conducted a study ... Although the study was highly critical of the party, UDF's leaders accepted its accuracy and used the findings...*
CROATIA: ... IRI continued to advise and train senior-level staff and officials... An IRI national opinion poll conducted in February showed that while the government still enjoyed popular support, the Croatian people were growing impatient to see progress in economic and social reforms. Using strategic opinion research, IRI worked closely with government spokespersons from the prime minister's and the president's offices to promote effective communication between the government and the Croatian public. ... IRI also developed seminars for young political reporters and helped establish a Young Journalists' Club, designed to instill higher professional standards in the next generation of media professionals. The club has become a center for professional discussions and is planning to expand into a regional network of young journalists throughout Eastern Europe.*
MACEDONIA: IRI assisted the president's communications team in its development of an effective strategy to explain the peace accord to the public. [IRI headed the development of a national youth network to identify common political goals to bridge the inter-ethnic divide among the nation's youth and the creation of a speaker's series to bring together political and civic youth organizations from across ethnic, political and regional lines... In preparation for 2002 parliamentary elections, IRI began training Macedonia's main political parties.*
ROMANIA: IRI continued providing political communications training for Romanian government spokespersons and completed the final two exchange missions to the United States... Nearly 30 Romanian officials participated in the IRI-conducted exchanges... IRI also trained members of the president's communication office and other ministry spokespersons...SERBIA: ... IRI focused on assistingthe new government in developing and implementing itsreform agenda... IRI trained local political leaders, city managers and senior-level civil servants in five municipalities on how to involve citizens in decision making...*
TURKEY: IRI made significant headway in its youth participation programs. ... IRI continued to assist Turkish partner organizations in theirefforts to raise public* awareness of the social costs ofcorruption in Turkey. IRI supported social research and publications on corruption that were released at a press conference with the interior minister. BELARUS: IRI opened an office in Vilnius, Lithuania to better facilitate programs for Belarusian political activists as they prepared for the September 9 presidential election... IRI used trainers from other Central and Eastern European countries to provide practical advice on door-to-door campaigning and get-out-the-vote activities. ... GEORGIA ... RUSSIA ... UKRAINE: From party building to youth outreach and Women InPolitics (WIP) programs, IRI's Ukraine program reached thousands of democratic political party activists... IRI helped Ukrainian nongovernmental organizationsgrow and develop. ... ARGENTINA ... CUBA ... ECUADOR ... GUATEMALA ... HAITI ... MEXICO: Since 1987, IRI has worked in Mexico to encourage citizens to exercise their rights and contribute to the consolidation ofa fully representative, multi-party democracy. That work continued in 2001 through IRI's support of the Asociacion Nacional Civica Femenina (ANCIFEM). ... NICARAGUA: [There is a] possible return to power of theSandinista National Liberation Front (FSLN). ... Prior to the elections, IRI and HD worked to encourage citizen participation in the country's political discourse andpromoted accountability for elected officials. ... IRI also dispatched a 56-member delegation that spread out over 13 of Nicaragua's 17 departments for the November 4 election monitoring mission. PERU: ... Leading up to thenational elections in April, IRI trained more than 3,445 political party poll watchers and worked with civic groupsto increase citizen participation in the electoral process. VENEZUELA: *... In 2001, the once fractured and weak political opposition began to gain strength and increase coordination in its efforts to mount an effective democratic challenge to the increasingly authoritarian regime of President Hugo Chavez. ... Chabad Lubavitcher movement / sect Heads: Rabbi Menachem Schneerson (7th head 1951-1994). Members/involved: Mordechai Korf and Uri Laber (US agents of Ihor Kolomoyskyi, himself additionally described as an advisor to a leading Chabad Rabbi in Ukraine) | Roman Abramovich | Lev Leviev | Berel Lazar (chief Rabbi of Russia close to Putin) | Rabbi Shmuel Kaminezki (chief rabbi of Dnepropetrovsk, Ukraine) | Victor Pinchuk (advisor and "close friend" to Rabbi Kaminezki) | Gennadiy Bogolyubov (advisor in 2008 to Rabbi Kaminezki; partner of Kolomoisky in the notorious Privatbank). Source(s): Jan. 1, 2008, 'Chief Rabbi of Ukraine's Largest Jewish Community Named Among Top Foreigner': "Three of whom [also named] are members of Rabbi Kaminezki's advisory board: Igor Kolomoisky and Victor [P. and] Gennady Bogolubov..."; Oct. 7, 2014, chabad.org, 'In Chaos of Ukraine, Dnepropetrovsk Again Stands as a Beacon of Refuge': ""That is the last address where Rabbi Levi Yitzchak lived in this city,"" explains Kaminezki, referring to Rabbi Levi Yitzchak Schneerson-the mystic, scholar, and father of the Rebbe, Rabbi Menachem M. Schneerson..."; April 9, 2017, Politico, 'The Happy-Go-Lucky Jewish Group That Connects [T.] and [P.]'; March 6, 2021, New York Post, 'Businessmen accused of Ukraine money laundering gave millions to New York charities'.	1775

More: Warburg family members (at least some involvement through meetings 1910s-1920s).* * Awaited Leon Trotzky - a secular Jew - on the pier, with many unidentified friends, upon arrival in New York City in Jan. 1917. As Trotzky spoke no English, on the pier he promoted him to the NYT and NY Herald Tribune as a persecuted "peace advocate" (Jan. 15, 1917, NYT, 'Expelled From Four Lands; Pacifist Editor Here from Russia, Germany, France and Spain.') and brought him to "Astor Hotel, 42nd Street". Trotzky himself actually preferred to portray himself as a "fighter for the Revolutionary International" (to NYC's newspaper Novy Mir, edited by his close friend, Nikolai Bukharin). To the New Yorker Volkszeitung Trotzky said soon afterwards: "Honestly, this [expulsion from Europe] isn't surprising in light of the fierce opposition we posed to the 'socialist' and the 'capitalist' war warmongers." Upon hearing of the Russian*	1881

Revolution of February 1917, Trotsky and Bukharin left for Russia and were able to siege power, partly by agreeing to withdraw from WWI.

Extra: anti-Vatican masonic, deist and esoteric groups

Rosicrucian Order / Fraternity of the Rose Cross Founder: Christian Rosenkreutz. According to the Fama Fraternitatis Rosae Crucis of 1607.	1407 (+/-)
Fratres Lucis A mythical esoteric research group, supposedly existing for centuries. Mythical, because the first reference dates to 1873, when the spirit of Count Cagliostro allegedly appeared in the crystal ball of Herbert Irwin. Named members (remains interesting to get a sense of who some of the classic Western mystics were): Count Cagliostro (1743-1795) | Emanuel Swedenborg | Louis Claude de Saint-Martin | Epithas Levi | Martinez de Pasqually.	1498
Fama Fraternitatis Rosae Crucis The first public manifesto of the Rosicrucian Order. Caused great excitement. Work influenced by John Dee and Heinrich Khunrath. The second manifesto is the Confessio Fraternitatis. The third manisfesto is The Chymical Wedding of Christian Rosenkreutz (1616).	1607
Grand Lodge of London and Westminster / Grand Lodge of England James Anderson's The Constitutions of the Free-Masons dates to 1723.	1717
Scottish Rite (1-33) Date refers to the first evidence of lodges conferring degrees as "Scots Master", which was entirely new at the time.	1733
Grand Orient de France Date refers to the first braches of the London Grand Lodge in France, now also the official founding date of the Grand Orient. This used to be 1773, the year it was founded as a separate body. The English Grand Lodge of France was founded in 1743. Members: Marquis de Lafayette (1757-1834) | Count de Mirabeau (1749-1791) | Duke d'Orleans.	1733
Martinist Order Martinez de Pasqually (founder) | Louis Claude de Saint-Martin (founder).	1740 (+/-)

The Nine Sisters Lodge, Paris Voltaire | Benjamin Franklin (U.S. minister to France 1778-1785). Reported close	1776

associates or members: Franz Mesmer | Cagliostro | Mirabeau | Thomas Jefferson (U.S. minister to France 1785-1789)
Illuminati Bavarian deist group pretending to be masonic which indeed became linked to the U.S. and French revolutions. Named members/allies: Adam Weishaupt (founder) | Joachim Christian Bode | Adolf Freiherr Knigge | Baron Karl Theodor von Dalberg | Karl August, Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach | Ewald Friedrich von Hertzberg | Karl von Hessen-Kassel | Count Cagliostro (1743-1795) | Count de Saint-Germain (1712-1784) | Franz Mesmer | Duke d'Orleans | Marquis de Lafayette (1757-1834) | Count de Mirabeau (1749-1791) | Jean-Pierre Brissot (1754-1793) | Antoine Barnave | Duke Francois de la Rochefoucauld-Liancourt (1747-1827) | Nicolas de Bonneville (1760-1828) | Claude Fauchet | Prince Henry of Prussia | Duke of Saxe-Gotha | Thomas Paine.	1776
Rite of High Egyptian Masonry Count Cagliostro (1743-1795) (founder)	1784
Rite of Misraim Count Cagliostro (founder)	1788
Knights of the Golden Circle Extension of the 1834-founded Southern Rights Clubs, an elite pro-slavery outfit in the South of the U.S. The KGC was a Confederate (Southern U.S.) secret society - centered in Texas - founded by George W. L. Bickley to create a "golden circle" of territories in Mexico, Central America, Confederate States of America and the Caribbean as slave states. Twice tried to invade Mexico, in order to turn that country into a slave state. After the election of Abraham Lincoln, the society pushed for secession from the Union, leading to the American Civil War of 1861-1865. Reportedly continued to exist until 1916 and played a key role in establishing the KKK (in 1865) as its military arm. (Alleged) members in the cabinet of President James Buchanan (1857-1861): secretary of war John Floyd | treasury secretary Howell Cobb | vice president John Breckenridge. Other: Gen. Elkanah Greer (established chapters in Texas and Louisiana; married to the sister of the "Queen of the Confederacy").	1854
Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia (SRIA) Operated under the United Grand Lodge of England. Robert Wentworth Little (founder). The Golden Dawn founders were all SRIA members: William Robert Woodman, William Wynn Westcott and Samuel Mathers.	1865
Theosophical Society Inspired by Far East mysticism. Later established the United Lodge of Theosophists. Co-founders (New York City): Henry Steel Olcott (first president 1875-1907) | Helena Blavatsky (founding secretary; most prominent face of the movement; first met Olcott in 1874; d. 1891) | William Quan Judge. Other leaders: Annie Besant (face of the society after Blavatsky's death in 1891; president 1907-1933; became a protege of Blavatsky in 1889 after Pall Mall Gazette asked her to write a review on Blavatsky's book The Secret Doctrine; Fabian Society Marxist until 1890; campaigned against British imperialism in India) | Charles Webster Leadbeater (member 1883; met Blavatsky when she came to London in 1884 and became her protege; founded the English Buddhist Academy in Ceylon with Olcott in 1885 and served as its headmaster; met Besant in 1894, with the two become close allies for life) | Jiddu Krishnamurti (discovered and raised by Besant and Leadbeater in Adyar from age 11; groomed to become the new World Teacher / Maitreya, until he rejected that in 1929; met the later Rockefeller- and Mellon-backed author Joseph Campbell; the Rockefeller- and Mellon-backed Alan Watts: "One of the most original and profound thinkers of the world.") | Alice Bailey. Theosophical Society Adyar, India: new HQ founded in 1882 by Olcott and Blavatsky.	1875
Memphis Misraim (34-99th degree) Count Cagliostro (1743-1795) | General Giuseppe Garibaldi | Joseph Balsamo	1881

Martinist and Synarchist Order	1921
Lucis Trust / Lucifer's Trust Alice Bailey (founder).	1922
Victoria's Secret Bought in 1982 for $1 million by billionaire Les Wexner. By 1992 the brand was worth $1 billion. The company's sales peaked in 2016 at $7.8 billion. Victoria's Secret is added here with regard to parallel research and because the brand's annual shows from at least [xxxx] on increasingly [xxxxxxx] the [xxxxxxxxxxxxx xxxxxx]. The annual show ran from 1995 to 2018 (its peak viewership was in 2001), and was rebooted in 2024 after a forced "feminist", (extra) "diversity" and transsexual element being put in place since 2019 - which the brand had earlier resisted (apart form hiring several perfectly-shaped black models). Mentioned reasons for decline after 2016: The annual shows were canceled after 2018, with the brand's sales strongly starting to decline from 2020 on. Reasons mentioned for the brand's decline include controversy over the pedophile activities of Jeffrey Epstein (Leslie's 1987-2007 financial advisor), who was re-arrested in July 2019; Victoria's Secret chief marketing officer and "angel selector" Ed Razek being the subject of a string of (previously ignored) complaints of inappropiate sexual behavior; additional #MeToo controversy over not hiring obese, unattractive and transgender models; "activist shareholder" James A. Mitarotonda demanding women on VS' executive board; people supposedly getting tired of all-similarly-shaped models, also with regard to breast size; overpriced lingerie that declined in quality, at least in the early 2010s; much cheaper lingerie alternatives as Fashionnova and AliExpress becoming available; and a loss of prestige after the annual show was canceled. A renewed annual show was announced for 2024, after a few years of heavy Kardashian-Jenner-tied "extra woke" reorganization. Victoria's Angels: Tyra Banks (1997-2005) | Heidi Klum (1997–2005, 2007–2009, host 2006-2009) | Adriana Lima (1999–2008, 2010–2018) | Gisele Budschen (1999–2006) | Alessandra Ambrosio (2000–2017) | Doutzen Kroes (2005–2006, 2008–2009, 2011–2014) | Rosie Huntington-Whiteley (2006-2010) | Miranda Kerr (2006–2009, 2011–2012) | Behati Prinsloo (2007–2015, 2018) | Candice Swanepoel (2007–2015, 2017–2018) | Elsa Hosk (2011–2018) | Cara Delavigne (2012-2013 annual shows) | Barbara Palvin (2012-2018) | Romee Strijd (2014-2018) | Kendall Jenner (2015-2018, but unofficial: 2015, 2016, 2018 annual shows) | Gigi Hadid (2015-2018) | Bella Hadid (2015 Pink campaign, 2016-2018 annual shows, 2021-) | Irina Shayk (2016 annual show and May 2017 VS model at the Cannes Film Fest.). Victoria's Secret fashion show performers: Ricky Martin ('05) | Justin Timberlake ('06) | will.i.am ('07) | Spice Girls ('07) | Usher ('08) | The Black Eyed Peas ('09) | Katy Perry ('10) | Akon ('10) | Kanye West ('11) | Maroon 5 ('11) | Jay-Z ('11) | Nicki Minaj ('11) | Rihanna ('12, canceled her '15 performance one week beforehand to work on her album 'Anti') | Justin Bieber ('12) | Bruno Mars ('12, 16) | Taylor Swift ('13-'14) | Ariana Grande ('14) | Ed Sheeran ('14) | Selena Gomez ('15) | The Weeknd ('15-'16) | Lady Gaga ('16) | Harry Styles ('17) | Shawn Mendes ('18) | Rita Ora ('18) | Halsey ('18). More: Emily Ratajkowski (hanging out the day after the 2018 show with VS angels Kendall, Romee and Elsa at the Revolve Awards) Post-2018 (the "extra woke" era): Valentina Sampaio (2019-, the first transgender model hired). *"VS Collective" (2021-): Valentina S. The "black network", "octopus", "nebula" and "Joint"

"The black network"	On July 29, 1991, Time Magazine reported in great detail how the corrupt BCCI bank had been controlled by what senior officers termed the "black network", which had ties to many western intelligence agencies (including the CIA, DIA and Mossad), arms merchants and dictators around the world. This hugely powerful conglomerate was involved in drug running, arms trafficking, gold smuggling, assassinations and bribing government officials. From other sources it became clear that black network operatives were working with the CIA and Mossad, indicating these two elements really controlled the network. See the La Nebuleuse article for some details. July 29, 1991, Time Magazine, 'The Dirtiest Bank of All': "B.C.C.I. is more than just a criminal bank. From interviews with sources close to B.C.C.I., TIME has pieced together a portrait of a clandestine division of the bank called the "black network," which functions as a global intelligence operation and a Mafia-like enforcement squad. Operating primarily out of the bank's offices in Karachi, Pakistan, the 1,500-employee black network has used sophisticated spy equipment and techniques, along with bribery, extortion, kidnapping and even, by some accounts, murder. The black network -- so named by its own members -- stops at almost nothing to further the bank's aims the world over."

"The more conventional departments of B.C.C.I. handled such services as laundering money for the drug trade and helping dictators loot their national treasuries. The black network, which is still functioning, operates a lucrative arms-trade business and transports drugs and gold. According to investigators and participants in those operations, it often works with Western and Middle Eastern intelligence agencies. The strange and still murky ties between B.C.C.I. and the intelligence agencies of several countries are so pervasive that even the White House has become entangled. As TIME reported earlier this month, the National Security Council used B.C.C.I. to funnel money for the Iran-contra deals, and the CIA maintained accounts in B.C.C.I. for covert operations. Moreover, investigators have told TIME that the Defense Intelligence Agency has maintained a slush-fund account with B.C.C.I., apparently to pay for clandestine activities..."

"U.S. agents collaborated with the black network in several operations, according to a B.C.C.I. black-network "officer" who is now a secret U.S. government witness. Sources have told investigators that B.C.C.I. worked closely with Israel's spy agencies and other Western intelligence groups as well, especially in arms deals. The bank also maintained cozy relationships with international terrorists, say investigators who discovered suspected terrorist accounts for Libya, Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization in B.C.C.I.'s London offices..."

"The Soviet invasion of Afghanistan in 1979 and the resulting strategic importance of neighboring Pakistan accelerated the growth of B.C.C.I.'s geopolitical power and its unbridled use of the black network..."

"The bank was in a unique position to operate an intelligence- gathering unit because it dealt with such figures as Noriega, Saddam, Marcos, Peruvian President Alan Garcia, Daniel Ortega, contra leader Adolfo Calero and arms dealers like Adnan Khashoggi. Its original purpose was to pay bribes, intimidate authorities and quash investigations. But according to a former operative, sometime in the early 1980s the black network began running its own drugs, weapons and currency deals."

"I was recruited by the black network in the early 1980s," says an Arab- born employee who has ties to a ruling family in the Middle East and has told U.S. authorities of his role in running one of the black units. "They came to me while I was in school in the U.S.; they spoke my language, knew all of my friends and gave me money. They told me they wanted me to join the organization, and described its wealth and political power, but at first they never said exactly what the organization did." "This operative -- call him Mustafa -- underwent a year of training that began with education in psychology and the principles of leadership and proceeded into spycraft, with lessons in electronic surveillance, breaking and entering, and interrogation techniques. "Then the nature of our advisers changed," says Mustafa. "The pleasantness was gone, and we moved to Pakistan, where we trained with firearms." Mustafa's first operational assignment took him to London. "They gave us passports and identification, and we moved a shipment of ((unidentified)) goods. In England they had more I.D. waiting for us, because customs and immigration are strict, but when we moved many places, into India or China or Latin America, matters were taken care of, and we just slipped through borders. We would be met. It was always all arranged."" "A typical operation took place in April 1989, when a container ship from Colombia docked during the night at Karachi, Pakistan. Black-unit operatives met the ship after paying $100,000 in bribes to Pakistani customs officials. The band unloaded large wooden crates from several containers. "They were so heavy we had to use a crane rather than a forklift," says a participant. The crates were trucked to a "secure airport" and loaded aboard an unmarked 707 jet, where an American, believed by the black-unit members to be a CIA agent, supervised the frantic activity..." "The black network was the bank's deepest secret, but rumors of its activities filtered through the bank's managerial level with chilling effectiveness. Senior bankers voice fears that they will be financially ruined or physically maimed -- even killed -- if they are found talking about B.C.C.I.'s activities... Businessmen who pursued shady deals with B.C.C.I. are just as frightened. 'Look,' says an arms dealer, 'these people work hand in hand with the drug cartels; they can have anybody killed.'... Currently the black units have focused their scrutiny and intimidation on investigators. 'Our own people have been staked out or followed, and we suspect tapped telephones,' says a New York law-enforcement officer."

"The Octopus"	Term that was created by the murdered journalist Danny Casolaro to describe the global, criminal, CIA-ran conglomerate he was investigating. Although it isn't known if this term was also used by people involved in this network, his work was very unique and he was clearly digging very deep -- too deep, it appears. Before he was killed (as have many, many others), Casolaro had already received numerous warnings and death threats, but apparently he couldn't back off. As for me, I agree with Casolaro's take on the subject. Parts of his investigation are discussed in the 1996 book The Last Circle of Cheri Seymour. Kenn Thomass and Jim Keith also discussed Casolaro's work in their 1996 book The Octopus: Secret government and the death of Danny Casolaro, pp. 69, 73 (revised edition of 2004):

"Although Danny Casolaro does not state it explicitly in his notes, he apparently conceived the Octopus starting as an anti- Communist response to Philby's betrayel [found out about in 1963]; a conclave of OSS/CIA veterans, dispersing and coalescing in what Casolaro called "tag team compartments" and reaping huge profits through assassinations, arms sales, the control of governments, international drug trafficking, and the promotion of international fascism...

"Danny Casolaro believed the Octopus responsible for criminal conspiracies which, linked, formed a virtual history of intelligence double dealing from 1950 to the present. These events, in Casolaro's view, included the ousters of US President Richard Nixon, Australian Prime Minister Gough Whitlam, the Shah of Iran, and the murders of Chilean President Allende, and, of course, of President John F. Kennedy. Casolaro saw the Octopus' tentacles entwined throughout the creation of the Golden Triangle and Latin America drug trade, the Cuban Bay of Pigs debacle, the October Surprise, the BCCI banking scandal, and, almost as an afterthought, the theft of the PROMIS software. Casolaro found a "Secret Team," a high cabal of players operating a clandestine, parallel government, identified previously by other writers. The cabal had operated beyond the control or scrutiny of the elected government, financed by drug- running from Southeast Asia and the Americas... Casolaro believed the crimes could best be identified by linking them to a small network of named individuals that made up his Octopus. He outlined their hierarchy and provided specific detail about their behind-the-scenes role in contemporary political history.

"Casolaro named people both familiar and unfamiliar to other researchers. He deemed the "first level" operatives to be Richard Helms, George Pender, John Philip Nichols, and Ray Cline [ASC; close to Cercle group]. The second level included Robert Chasen, E. Howard Hunt, Edwin Wilson, Thomas Clines, and Ted Shackley [Shackley was influential in Le Cercle; Shackley was definitely the leader of what Casolaro terms "second level"]. Working backward from the PROMIS theft, Casolaro saw them in a new relationship, a nearly organic entity that impacted on both past and then current events..."

	The Octopus', p. 71, interview with investigative reporter Virginia McCullough: "Danny would say that he couldn't believe the government would do drugs for arms. He was God, motherhood, and apple pie. I would say, 'Look Danny, let's get real, we're living in the 20th century.'"
"The nebula"	Spoken about in the 1994 ATLAS dossier on this website. It involves a network of Mossad agents and Russian mafia, but also CIA, politicians and bankers. Elements are very recognizable compared to the previous two terms: "black network" and "Octopus". Intro of the the relevant ATLAS dossier document: "To comprehend this nebula, it is necessary to abandon traditional financial or political logic; this is not merely a question of nation, political party, or of ordinary economics... Our conclusion would be that at least over the last twenty years, the economic powers, some of which mafia types, have allied themselves with political forces and organized criminal structures, and reached the 4th stage of money laundering, namely, Absolute Power. It has been specified to us that at the present moment these characters control 50% of the world economy."
"The Joint"	Network described by Kay Griggs. "Joint" is actually one of several terms her husband, a top Marine Corps official, used for the network he was involved with. "Joint" specifically refers to his group's alliance with the Zionist network headquartered in New York. I have interacted with Kay Griggs, did extensive research on her claims and see no reason at all to doubt her statements, despite the fact that she has a severe bias against Jews. This is only to be expected, as Kay Griggs was protected by Sarah McClendon, part of the old non-neocon, anti-liberal establishment and old anti-Zionist American Security Council and John Birch Society network. That also seems to explain why she is allowed to speak out, as shows like Alex Jones and Jeff Rense have their roots in these same groups. *Gen. Louis H. Buehl III / Michael O'Boyle / George H. W. Existence uncertain Committee of 26	This group is mentioned in Simon Regan's book 'Who killed Diana?' The author was informed about this group through his intelligence contacts, including the one who advised him to look into Le Cercle. I quote from his book: "My own security contacts, including the Baroness, had also told me about a highly mysterious organization called the Committee of 26, which is apparently based in Bristol, in England's West Country. I have never heard of this and can find no other official reference in any file. But it is apparently a super-secret "liaison desk" between the highest echelons of British and American agencies and has the "co-operation" of the French. I was told it was "Old Guard" and worked unilaterally. That is, it was a kind of uncontrolled "super-agency" which answered to no one. I cannot show that this agency even exists... I trust the Baroness, but she was unable to give me any feasible further "chapter and verse." This could well be disinformation, as this is certainly the case with John Coleman's Committee of 300 ("the Olympians"). I read Coleman's book years back, looking for evidence of the committee's existence, but couldn't find it. Virtually all of the information could be found in the work of EIR and Eustace Mullins (both also propagandists, but who never used the Committee of 300 term), and most of the names he mentions have at least once visited Bilderberg. Especially since Coleman gathered so many names of this alleged Committee of 300, you'd guess he could at least point you in the right direction for proof of its existence. But he has never done that. Coleman, a former MI6 agent, is typical of conservative establishment propagandists à la Brian Crozier and others, in the sense that he links liberalism, socialism and communism all on one heap and the West has been a victim of this joint "plot". This alone is a dead giveaway that he's spreading disinformation. Maybe it's different with the Committee on 26, but don't get your hopes up.

Group 13	Said to be an assassination team from Britain. You can find some information about it here. The supposed head of Group 13 turned out to be someone whose background could not be fully traced, not even by the British Parliament. This person and his allies had also infiltrated the boards of arms companies. Apparently, when these companies aren't useful anymore, they are run into the ground. This group, which appears to have close ties to the Pinay Cercle leadership, will be slightly more expanded on in the future.

Company 14	Another assassination team from England. The well-respected and well-connected author Gordon Thomas spoke about this group in March 2010. Supposedly this group is hunting down IRA members who killed two British soldiers and a policeman in Northern Ireland.
Knight's Templar (CIA)	In his 1977 book The Night Watch, former CIA officer David Atlee Phillips wrote on page 123 (according to Lobster): "...that small circle of well-bred, highly educated adventurers who were known to some in the CIA as the 'Knights Templars' - Allen Dulles, Frank Wisner, Kermit Roosevelt, Tracey Barnes, Dick Bissell, and kindred spirits. Other CIA veterans have confirmed the existence of similar associations within the agency, with names like the "Century group" and the "Gold Key group".
Synarchist Movement of Empire	The Synarchist and Martinist order existed, but nothing is really known about it and it may well have been very insignificant in terms of influence. But some have claimed that the philopsophies of Synarchism played a role in the French version of an underground fascist, pre-World War II movement. 1969, William L. Shirer, 'The Collapse of the Third Republic', pp. 218-219: "Later Coutrot would be generally credited with being the man behind a technocratic movement called Synarchie, which to this day, despite many studies of it, remains - at least to this writer, who has pondered most of them - somewhat of a mystery... That some Synarchists organized as far back as 1922 a secret society with revolutionary aims has been established. It was called "Le Mouvement Synarchique d'Empire," or MSE, and its secret "Pact," containing "Thirteen Fundamental Points and 598 Propositions" for the Synarchist revolution, was discovered by the Vichy police in 1941 and published after the war... so far as one can make out from reading the lengthy document the movement would set up a sort of super monopoly capitalism, with competition abolished and endless plans drawn up for production and distribution, the whole - as well as the government - to be run by knowledgeable technocrats... That at one time the MSE was linked to the terrorist Cagoule [CSAR] also seems clear... this secret society of technocrats never got close to staging a revolution." A number of other authors disagree with that last notion. You can find more about the SME and the Synarchie in ISGP's Pilgrims Society article, as well as in >note 3 of ISGP's Cercle article.

Here's a quick timeline compiled from the work of Roger Mennevée in Les Documents Politiques, Diplomatiques et Financiers, which was published from 1946 to 1962.

1922	The SME is born in Europe and its membership slowly rises over the years.
1932	The SME controls the Theosophy Society [it is known that Saint Yves d'Alveydre with his Synarchie concept was a significant influence on Blavatsky] and other dissident branches.
February 1934	Jean Coutrot begins his intense recruitment. He creates organizations like the CPEE, PCES, CEPH, CHPS, etc. At that moment, the SME has about 300 members, which will start to rise more rapidly from this point on.
1934	The SME controls the leadership of the Cagoule, a fascist organization which worked to undermine the French republic.
1934	The SME tries to take over the French government through La Cagoule. Fails.
1935	The SME has quietly penetrated the Council of the Order of the Grand Orient of France and the Federal Council of the Grand Lodge of France.
1937	The SME, again, tries to take over the French government through its military wing, the SCRA. Fails.
July 1940	After the Germans have conquered France, the SME ascends to power. The SME in France becomes the Vichy government.
Post WWII	The movement is said to have survived. Jean Violet, who was a member of the CSAR, becomes part of Otto von Habsburg's (and Coudenhove-Kalergi's) Vatican-Paneuropa network. Both become primary founders of Le Cercle, one of the most important branches of this Vatican-Paneuropa network.

Taipan Society	Ron Rewald of the CIA investment bank BBRDW reportedly was invited in 1983, after his bank became controversial and he attempted a suicide. Reportedly had about a dozen lifetime members coming from high-level Asian multinationals and banks. Hookers were available during get-togethers.

Extra: reported coups carried out by the West (mainly the U.S.)

Over the years I came across certain and alleged coups in the countries below, usually carried out by by the CIA and other times by MI6 and French intelligence. Several of the coups also involved the Israelis. The dates are picked based on either a major event in that year or when a slower, more drawn-out coup went into action - like in Tibet, for example. This list is just a guide. Google the country listed, togeter with "coup" and "CIA", and you are likely to find more than enough information. Some curious assassinations, which could be suspected as having been part of coup, have not been listed. An example of this are the deaths of the left-leaning Indian politicians Sanjay Gandhi (1980), Indira Gandhi (1984) and Rajiv Gandhi (1991).

Keep in mind that "open action", instead of "covert action", has become the norm since the early 1980s, meaning that major thinks tanks and foundations continue to support student and "pro-democracy" groups in all countries the West takes an interest in. Freedom House, the National Endowment for Democracy, the National Democratic Institute the Open Society Fdns. of George Soros have been examples of this type of activity. Like Allen Weinstein, co-founder of the National Endowment for Democracy, acknowledged: "A lot of what we do today was done covertly 25 years ago by the CIA." [1]
